Welcome to the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium...

Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Nebraska Athletic Department, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to Memorial Stadium for today's game.

Marilyn and I continue to be impressed by our wonderful Husker fans. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that enables Nebraska to continue its NCAA-record sellout streak.

You are going to experience some inconvenience this year because of construction, but the new facilities will be a great addition for the entire University. We are continuing our commitment to make improvements and innovations which will add to your enjoyment of game day at Memorial Stadium.

The Athletic Department is proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome visiting teams and their fans receive. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship are vital components of intercollegiate athletics and our goals at the University of Nebraska.

On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Huskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

After returning to the ground attack in a 41-0 victory over Kansas last Saturday, the seventh-ranked Nebraska Cornhuskers will look to stay in the hunt for the Big 12 Championship as they play host to No. 19/18 (AP/Coaches) Missouri in an important Big 12 showdown this morning.

The Huskers, who lead the all-time series 56-32-3, have won the last 19 meetings, but the Tigers have not been easy to tame. Seven of those Husker victories have been by 10 points or less, including last season's 45-38 overtime victory. The Huskers have not lost to Missouri in Memorial Stadium since a 35-31 Tiger victory in 1978. Today's contest is the first time that both teams have been ranked since a 6-0 Nebraska victory in Columbia in 1981.

With a victory this afternoon, Husker Coach Frank Solich will look to accomplish a feat which even eluded Hall of Fame Coaches Tom Osborne and Bob Devaney -- defeating Missouri during his first season. Osborne's team lost 13-12 in 1973, while Devaney's first Husker squad was on the short end of a 16-7 decision in 1962. In fact, since World War II, only one first-year Nebraska coach, Pete Elliott in 1956, has knocked off the Tigers in their first meeting, a span of nine coaches.

Last season's encounter is already spoken of in legendary proportions, as the Huskers pulled out a miraculous 45-38 overtime victory in Columbia. Trailing 38-31 with 1:02 remaining in regulation, Nebraska drove 67 yards in 10 plays culminating in a remarkable game-ending play, in which the Huskers' Matt Davison made a diving grab of a ball which had deflected off teammate Shevin Wiggins. NU then scored on its overtime possession and snuffed out the Tigers' final hope for the victory. Nebraska outgained Missouri 528-386 in the contest, but the Tiger offense, led by QB Corby Jones, kept the Blackshirts off balance all afternoon. The Tigers rushed for 153 yards, led by Jones' 60, and Jones passed for another 233 and three TDs.

Missouri in Big 12 Showdown

Husker Flashback:

Oct. 24, 1981; Columbia, Mo.

Nebraska 6

Missouri 0

The last time both teams were ranked, Nebraska and Missouri were scoreless for 59:37 before Husker fullback Phil Bates scored from three yards out as the Huskers defeated Missouri, 6-0, in Columbia.

Behind the throwing of quarterback Turner Gill, the Huskers drove 64 yards on 10 plays for the winning score. Gill, who completed only nine-of-22 passes for 99 yards on the afternoon, had 58 yards passing on the final drive, completing a 13-yard pass to Irving Fryar and a pair of passes to Todd Brown for 24 and 21 yards, respectively, to put the ball on the Tiger 4-yard line before Bates scored two plays later.

The Husker defense kept the Tigers off the board, holding MU quarterback Mike Hyde to 14-of-29 passing for 128 yards, while Nebraska punter Grant Campbell averaged 40 yards per punt and placed five punts inside the MU 15-yard line.

Missouri enters today's game in Lincoln with a 5-1 overall record and is tied for the Big 12 North Division lead with a perfect 3-0 mark after a 20-6 win over Oklahoma last Saturday. MU's 3-0 start in the league is their best conference start since 1980. Mizzou's only loss this season was on the road at top-ranked Ohio State, 35-14, on Sept. 19.

The Tigers have one of the nation's best ground games, averaging 266.3 rushing yards per contest, to rank fifth in the nation and second in the Big 12, just behind Nebraska. Tailback Devin West is second in the nation in rushing at 175.2 yards per game and has already cracked the 200-yard mark twice, including a school-record 319 yards against Kansas in September. West has scored 12 touchdowns and ranks sixth nationally in scoring. Tiger quarterback Corby Jones has rushed for 251 yards and eight touchdowns and has thrown for 664 yards and five scores.

On the defensive side of the football, the Tigers have been stingy, allowing 16.2 points per game to rank 15th in the nation and just 292.3 yards of total offense per game, a mark that ranks 17th in the country. Missouri is led in tackles by linebacker Caldrinoff Easter, who has 34 stops, while MU cornerback Wade Perkins is second in the country with five interceptions, including a 36-yard touchdown return against Oklahoma last Saturday.

The Huskers, without starting I-back DeAngelo Evans, who missed the Kansas game because of injury, churned out a season-high 466 yards rushing against the Jayhawks on Saturday. In all, four players rushed for 60 yards or more, including 133 yards from sophomore I-back Correll Buckhalter and a career-best 90 yards by sophomore Dan Alexander. The Huskers controlled the ball for almost 40 minutes and tied a season low with nine passes in the win. The Husker Blackshirts held Kansas to 220 total yards and harassed Jayhawk QB Zac Wegner to an 8-of-25 performance. Leading 17-0 at halftime, the Husker defense forced a pair of Jayhawk turnovers, leading to a pair of Nebraska touchdowns to put the game away.

Next week, the Huskers conclude their homestand with a Halloween showdown with Texas. The Huskers are looking to avenge a 37-27 setback in the 1996 Big 12 Championship game. The game will be televised on ABC beginning at 2:30 p.m.

A Message From the Chancellor

Computer Science, Engineering and Technology Programs Bloom on the Silicon Prairie

Earlier this spring, we announced a major new program to be developed at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. In May, we announced what was then the largest gift in the history of the university, a gift of $32.2 million from Ed and Carole McVane of Denver, Colorado, to create the J. D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. This gift is not an endowment, but will build the Esther M. Kauffman Residential Learning Center that will house the students in the program, special classrooms and computer labs, and living quarters for visiting faculty and a resident faculty principal.

The remainder of the gift operates this new honors program for five years, providing full scholarships for students and support for faculty. The terms of the gift are such that, if we are successful in building the program we have envisioned, the McVaneys will continue to support the program at an annual cost of approximately $4.5 million per year. It is an open-ended, rolling commitment, with an assurance to the University that support will always be in place for five years in the future.

We are excited by the opportunity to develop the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management and the promise that it holds for all of Nebraska. When this program is fully implemented, we expect it to attract to the University of Nebraska as many as 150 undergraduate honors students and a significant number of graduate students pursuing careers in computer science, engineering, management and related programs. A high-quality innovative curriculum will blend instruction in technology and information management with liberal arts to educate future entrepreneurs and CEOs.

We believe this program will be a perfect complement to the much larger Peter Kiewit Institute of Information

Science, Technology and Engineering administered jointly by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the University of Nebraska at Omaha. When fully operational, the 192,000 square foot Kiewit Institute will educate as many as 1,500 students, preparing them for the information technology industry.

In no way will these programs be competing with one another; rather we expect them to be much stronger as a paired team than either would have been had they been developed as solitary entities. We expect and will encourage faculty to teach in both venues, sharing expertise with students and the business and industrial communities. Indeed, it is that willingness of faculty to work closely with business and industry to define workforce and technology needs and then design classes specifically to meet those needs that makes the Kiewit Institute and the J.E. Edwards Program so intriguing.

These two programs will operate hand-in-glove. We have already convened the first joint meeting of the leadership teams of the J.D. Edwards Program and the Kiewit Institute and will continue to meet on a regular basis.

We fully believe that having these two programs as bookends on the I-80 corridor between Lincoln and Omaha will develop our Silicon Prairie. We all have a stake in the economic prosperity that this industry can bring to Nebraska. It must be noted that every geographic area that has been successful in attracting the technology sector – the Research Triangle area of North Carolina, Boston or Silicon Valley – has had at least one major research university associated with it. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the state's doctoral degree-granting research institution, is the anchor to the Silicon Prairie.

Since the formation of the Kiewit Institute, we have seen a real turnaround with regard to UNL's engineering offerings in Omaha, both in terms of the quality of the program and the number of students enrolled. The number of new engineering students in the Omaha program doubled from 1995 to 1997, and it doubled again from 1997 to 1998. We are committed to this program: the No. 1 priority for UNL's budget request for the next biennium was $1 million for new engineering faculty for Omaha.

We are strengthening our engineering programs on the Lincoln campus as well, with emphasis on Chemical Engineering. The final result will be a powerful university of Nebraska Engineering and Technology presence in both Lincoln and Omaha. The winners will be all Nebraskans who will benefit from the economic development these programs will spawn.

Rucker's Hits Provide Memories,

By Jason J. Henke

Five seconds.

One play.

Just a few inches to give.

With a national title, 19-game winning streak and 40-game conference winning streak on the line, Mike Rucker and the Husker Blackshirts took care of business.

Clinging to a 24-17 lead over Oklahoma State in a classic at Arrowhead Stadium earlier this season, Rucker shut down Nathan Simmons' run-up-the-gut just short of the goal line to preserve an unforgettable victory.

The play against Oklahoma State solidified Rucker's reputation as a big play-maker and great all-around player, and was just the latest in a long string of memorable moments from the right rush end. Over the past four seasons, Rucker has left his mark in many capacities at Nebraska.

There was the devastating block on Kansas State's Joe Gordon that sprung Mike Fullman for a 79-yard punt return in 1995. Highlights of the hit that sent Gordon's helmet flying were featured around the country as the play of the day, and as a result, Rucker's name began popping up in conversations of football analysts and Husker fans alike.

There was the sack of Missouri's Corby Jones on the final play of the now legendary overtime win over the Tigers last season. Rucker, a native of St. Joseph, Mo., got a little help from fellow Missourian Grant Wistrom on the play to seal the hard-fought victory, and then celebrated in front of the homefolk.

Rucker said he enjoys playing in Missouri because every game there is like a home game, with friends and family watching. But he doesn't always like the survivor mentality Nebraska has been forced to take to win those games recently. The last three games that Nebraska has played in the state of Missouri have been tough on the Huskers.

The string began with a 37-27 loss to Texas at the 1996 Big 12 Championship game in St. Louis. Then against Missouri on Nov. 8, 1997, the Huskers needed a last-second deflection reception by Matt Davison to force a 38-38 tie and an eventual 45-38 overtime win. The Huskers needed every second of the clock to lock out Oklahoma State's dreams of an upset in Kansas City on Oct. 3.

"It seems like every time we go to Missouri, we have a tough time," Rucker said. "I don't know what it is. We have found ourselves in a couple of dogfights. It's been a situation where the other team was doing everything right and we weren't playing up to par, but were still in the ball game."

Rucker said the come-from-behind win against Missouri helped prepare the Huskers for this year's Oklahoma State and Texas A&M games.

"Just being in the Missouri game and winning proved that we're not going to roll over when we get down," Rucker said. "To go through that made us grow as a team, and it definitely helped us against Oklahoma State. We didn't break under pressure and were able to handle that."

That same never-say-die attitude was evident in the 28-21 loss to Texas A&M two weeks ago. Even in the losing effort, Rucker and the Blackshirts shut the Aggies down repeatedly in the fourth quarter, giving the offense the opportunity to score two touchdowns and a chance to tie the game in the final minutes.

It is that kind of consistent, persistent play that Rucker wants to be remembered for when he leaves Nebraska -- not just for a couple of big plays.

Rucker has done plenty to attain that goal. He entered the 1998 season as perhaps the most experienced "non-starter" Nebraska has ever had, alternating in as a first-teamer during his sophomore and junior years.

In three years of action, Rucker had recorded 15.5 sacks and 31 tackles for loss in a reserve role.

This season Rucker struggled early because of a reoccurring groin injury that forced him to the sidelines in the first four games. He recorded just four tackles in limited action. But with the injury improving, Rucker has come on strong in the last three games, and is now 13 tackles for loss away from the second-place spot on the Husker all-time charts in that category. Grant Wistrom is at the top of the list with 58.5.

Rucker garnered a lot of preseason hype from sports magazines nationwide, but the groin injury has countered many of the probable awards. Among many honors, Rucker was touted as a 1998 Lombardi Award candidate and Bronko Nagurski Award candidate. He was considered one of the best defensive ends in the country.

Rucker said it naturally felt good to get all the encouraging ink, but struggling through bits and pieces of games at less than full strength has been disappointing.

"It was nice to see my name in the magazines," Rucker said. "I'll be able to show that to my kids someday and be proud about it. It didn't change me, that's for sure. I remained focused on what I had to do. I just feel like I'm about four games behind everyone around the country right now because of this injury."

Nevertheless, Rucker is staying positive. The 6-6, 260-pounder is the largest athlete ever to play the rush end position at Nebraska, and has been a large component of the Blackshirts' impressive defense. He said the injury cannot take away all he has worked for.

"I'm doing all I can right now," Rucker said. "It won't get me down. I'm still giving my all to this team."

Physical, Mental Battle

Rucker has battled a nagging groin injury since the summer of 1994, just days before he was to report to Nebraska's fall camp as a freshman. The injury seemed to appear out of nowhere during a pick-up basketball game and has continued to flare up occasionally ever since.

The condition is called oesteitis pubis, a strange pelvic injury that a number of Nebraska players, including 1-back DeAngelo Evans, have suffered from over the past few years. Tightness and irritation in the groin are caused by a wearing away of cartilage in the pelvic area. The pain from the friction is sent through the muscle.

Luckily for Rucker, the injury didn't bother him during his freshman year. It wasn't until last year's season-opener against Akron that the injury flared up again. Rucker played through the pain, and didn't miss any game time, although he often rested during practice.

"It has a mind of its own," Rucker said. "It comes and goes when it wants. What is so frustrating about it is that you don't know where you're going to be day-to-day."

"With an ankle injury, you know pretty much when it will heal and how to treat it. Once it's over, it's gone. But an injury like this just wears on you physically and mentally because it comes and goes so much."

This season, it returned again in full force for the season-opener against

Louisiana Tech, and continued to plague the starting rush end through the Washington game, forcing him to miss a large portion of four games and a number of practices.

Though the cause of the flare-ups is a bit of a mystery, Rucker said the only common factors in the season-opening games between this year and last year was the heat and nervous jitters that come with playing in the first game of the season.

Little is known about oesteitis pubis, and it's hard to treat. About the only thing Rucker can do is get plenty of rest, take anti-inflammatory medication, do exercises to strengthen the muscles around the area and sit in a 60 degree tub of water to alleviate the pain.

The combination of treatments have seemed to work lately. Although not 100 percent, Rucker says he feels better than he has in a long time at this point in the season. Since the first four games where he recorded just four tackles, Rucker has exploded for 20 tackles in the last three games, including a career-high 11 stops against Oklahoma State.

At 6-6 and 260 pounds, Mike Rucker is the largest athlete ever to play the rush end position at Nebraska.

Husker Rush End Legacy Continues

"It's been frustrating. It's weighed on my mind a lot, and I've taken it home a lot of times. It made me crabby and affected everything else I did, but I'm out of that stage now. I know now how to handle it better."

"I'm just trying to play through it," Rucker said. "I'm not complaining for the simple fact that I know it could be worse. At least I'm out on the field having fun and enjoying it."

Rivals, Friends

Rucker and senior captain Chad Kelsay have a history of competitiveness. For the last three seasons, the two have battled head-to-head for playing time. First, it was for a backup role, and last season, it was for the starting spot opposite 1997 Lombardi Award winner Grant Wistrom.

Entering this season, the two had big shoes to fill with Wistrom and defensive tackle Jason Peter gone to new assignments in the NFL. Rucker and Kelsay were to become the next starters at a position that has showcased talents like Wistrom, Jared Tomich and Trev Alberts in recent years. But like past challenges, Kelsay and Rucker have taken their responsibilities in stride, and for the first time, are enjoying playing opposite each other as starters.

"Ever since I was a freshman here, Mike and I have been fighting for the same thing," Kelsay said. "Even though we were competing against each other, we were able to stay great friends. Now we have the chance to finish this thing off the way it should be."

"Chad and I have a great relationship," Rucker said. "We're close friends. I think maybe others in this position somewhere else may have been torn apart by the competitiveness, but it just didn't happen with us."

"I think it's due to the way our parents have brought both of us up. We've both got great families. His parents have instilled some great qualities in him, the same as mine. We take that everywhere, and it dictates how we deal with certain things."

Rush ends coach Nelson Barnes said the two have certainly dealt with things in an admirable manner.

"Mike and Chad always give it their all on every play, and give the younger guys something to look up to," Barnes said. "They're both great players, and great people. You really can't ask for more."

Rucker said he and Chad, along with the entire Husker defense, have the responsibility to pass down what they've learned to the underclassmen to insure Nebraska football will continue to be strong.

"When we play, we're not just playing for ourselves," Rucker said. "We're playing for everybody who has been here before us."

With that mindset, Rucker and Kelsay have continued to do the best they can to insure a Husker victory in every game, and they've enjoyed every minute of it.

"We both have had our disappointments when we were competing against each other for a spot, but the good has always outweighed the bad," Rucker said. "Look at us now. Everything has paid off. We're both happy and having fun."

Coming Full Circle

Rucker's love for football started on road trips with Grandpa and Grandma.

Rucker's uncle played football at Graceland College in Iowa, so the three would load up the car and travel north for every game they could make it to. It was during those fall days in Iowa country that the 10-year-old fell in love with the sport.

From those experiences grew a longing to find a way to the field himself. Rucker's grandparents helped out. They bought his first set of pads and other equipment for a Saturday afternoon youth football league and attended every game.

"My grandpa had ALS, so he always had to watch the game from the car," Rucker said. "But he was always there to support me. I'll always remember looking over and seeing him in the car."

It made me want to do that much better for him."

It was only a few years later that Mike could no longer enjoy the company of his grandfather. He passed away during Rucker's eighth-grade year.

A year later, Rucker's cousin from Omaha was shot and killed. It was a trying time for everyone in the family.

"That hit me hard," Rucker said. "Those were some bad years. My grandpa was a big part of my life, and to lose him really hurt. My cousin was my age, and we didn't get to see each other much, but on special days, we hung tough."

"I always wonder what we could have done together, what life would have been like if that didn't happen. I think about it all the time."

As can be expected, the grieving process affected Rucker's play on the football field, and things weren't going well. There were times that he just wanted to hang it up and forget about football, but with the support of his father, he decided to stick it out.

That may have been one of the best decisions Rucker has ever made. If he hadn't, he probably would not have enjoyed a three-national championship career at the University of Nebraska.

Though Rucker's grandfather is gone, the family tradition continues.

His grandmother travels from the east to east coast for every game to see her grandson play. Rucker's parents, who were both scholarship college basketball players, travel to nearly every game, too. Rucker said there would have to be something devastating happen for them to miss a game.

"It means a lot to me to have that type of family," Rucker said. "We're very close-knitted. We've been through a lot of things and had our share of troubles, but we always have handled them in the best way possible. That has brought me to where I am now."

"Seeing them in the stands when I come off the field makes me feel really good. It's what makes my heart pump."

Another thing that has brought the family closer together is an event that will take place in December. That is when Mike, a sociology major, will become the second Rucker to earn a college degree.

"That's going to be a great accomplishment for me," Rucker said. "I know the family is very proud of me."

Rucker hopes he will not have to use his degree right away. His lifelong dream is to play in the NFL, and that is his goal. But if a career in professional football doesn't pan out, Rucker said he would enjoy being a highway patrolman or secret service agent.

Whatever happens in the future, Rucker is confident he can handle it. He has already handled adversity well with his nagging injury, and has been under an intense microscope as a member of one of college football's finest teams. Rucker understands there will be ups and downs, but believes that the two things balance out.

"Life isn't going to be peaches and cream," Rucker said. "There's going to be things thrown at you when you don't want them thrown at you. It's happened with this injury and with the death of my grandpa and cousin, but I can only handle it the best way I can. I truly believe things happen for a reason, and it helps to know that."

Rucker said he wants to work hard and raise a strong family that mirrors the family he grew up in.

"I want to have kids when I'm fairly young so I can relate to them," Rucker said. "It helped that my parents were young growing up. That's part of the reason why we were so close."

For Mike Rucker, the closeness represented in his immediate family also encompasses his extended family -- Husker players, coaches and fans, all who will miss the big plays, the leadership and the heart and soul of one of Nebraska's best.

The only thing Rucker regrets is not having his grandpa and cousin here to share these good times with him.

Surely, somewhere they must be smiling down on No. 84.

Senior right rush end Mike Rucker has recorded 15.5 sacks and 33 tackles for loss in his career at Nebraska.

Dedicated to Excellence

The University of Nebraska Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, as an integral part of the University's educational mission, is committed to a comprehensive athletics program, Dedicated to Excellence.

Bill ByrneUniversity of Nebraska
Director of Athletics

In his sixth year at Nebraska, Bill Byrne continues to lead and improve one of the nation's best athletic programs. Byrne became the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics on June 26, 1992, replacing the legendary Bob Devaney.

He came to Nebraska following 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association. He is a member of the NCAA Legislative Strategic Planning Cabinet and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events. He has worked tirelessly to establish close ties with the NU community and Husker fans. Byrne has canvassed the state visiting with boosters to learn the needs of all Husker fans.

Among his many accomplishments at Nebraska, Byrne has continually upgraded facilities, including the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards at Memorial Stadium in 1994. Besides becoming the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans, Memorial Stadium was renovated to include a state-of-the-art training room, expanded locker rooms for coaches and players, a new public address system, expanded restrooms and expanded concession areas. Section 14 was rebuilt in 1994 to offer increased seating for disabled fans.

Byrne's future plans ensure that NU's facilities will remain the nation's best for Husker athletes and fans. He enlisted the Kansas City, Mo., firm of HOK Sports to develop a master facilities plan for the athletic program. A new press box and sky boxes are part of the renovation plans for Memorial Stadium, along with an expanded main concourse area. The East Stadium Plaza is being developed, while waterproofing and concrete repair continues throughout the stadium. The $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Bob Devaney Sports Center will begin, while the Ed Weir Outdoor Track will be resurfaced. The Abbott Sports Complex also will receive a new press facility for women's soccer.

In 1997-98, the Devaney Center received a new locker room for women's staff, a new roof over the pool area and a remodeled central concessions area. The NU Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza, while a new volleyball ready room was constructed in the NU Coliseum. A new shooting range was devised for the women's rifle team in the Military and Naval Science Building. The Athletic Ticket Office relocated to the Stadium Drive Parking Garage, along with the new Huskers Authentic retail store, and the Athletic Marketing and Development offices moved to the South Stadium Office Building. In 1996-97, the Devaney Center received a new sound system, new weight room, new women's basketball locker room and a passenger elevator, and Buck Beltzer Stadium received new infield turf. The computer center in the Boekel Academic Center also tripled in size.

Byrne's leadership has kept the Huskers among the nation's elite. In fact, during the 1997-98 season, Nebraska:

- ◆ became only the second school in NCAA history to win three football national championships in a four-year span.
- ◆ recorded its fourth consecutive top-10 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings, with a ninth-place showing in Division I, the best showing of any Big 12 Conference school.
- ◆ won six Big 12 championships (football, women's swimming, women's gymnastics, softball, men's indoor and outdoor track).
- ◆ finished in the top 10 nationally in seven sports (men's: football, gymnastics; women's: softball, volleyball, soccer, outdoor track and bowling).
- ◆ won its 19th consecutive conference all-sports crown.

With Byrne's leadership, Nebraska became the first Big Eight school to add women's soccer as a varsity sport in 1994. Byrne continues to expand opportunities for Husker athletes. During 1997-98, women's bowling was added as a varsity sport, and women's riflery will begin for the 1998-99 season, giving the Huskers 24 sports, the most in the Big 12.

Along with maintaining the highest standards on the field, Byrne has reorganized the department for the 21st century. Stressing more efficient use of resources, Byrne has created a one-stop shopping type of organization to meet the needs of student-athletes, fans and contributors. He also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program.

Byrne is recognized as a national leader in intercollegiate athletics and continues to make an aggressive effort to help place conference officials on key NCAA committees to represent Big 12 institutions. He was recently chosen to serve as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Athletic Directors and has been instrumental in conference development and an active voice in its planning.

In conjunction with the rest of Nebraska's administration, Byrne has arranged to use the Husker football and basketball networks to promote causes and concerns important to the entire university community, including the institution's increased role in research.

Before bringing his expertise to Nebraska, Byrne was the Oregon Director of Athletics. He assumed the duties of director of athletics in May of 1984 as one of the youngest directors in Division I. Byrne established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and established a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Ducks' games on radio and television.

Byrne led the $19 million fund drive at Oregon that resulted in new homes for the Ducks' football team and athletic department offices. He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium, which concluded in 1991. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor.

Byrne has served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 1991-92, and is in his seventh year on the NACDA Executive Committee. He was also chairman of the Pac-10 Conference Executive Committee and was the National Athletic Fundraisers Association National Fundraiser of the Year.

Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State. He was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was Assistant Athletic Director at San Diego State (1980-82), Executive Director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and Director of Alumni Relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the Dean of Graduate Studies in Education at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 3, and Davis, 1, live in Eugene, Ore., where Greg is an athletic fundraiser for the University of Oregon. Bill and Marilyn's other son, Bill, is a section manager for Visa in its world-wide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

Frank Solich

Head Coach First Season

For the past three decades the Nebraska football program has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics. Those qualities were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for the last quarter century by his successor, Tom Osborne.

That stability is the primary reason that on Dec. 10, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Frank Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 108 years of football tradition. Solich follows the Nebraska model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich has been Osborne's heir-apparent for several seasons.

Solich is a veteran of the Nebraska football program. He served on Osborne's staff for the past 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and for the past 15 years as running backs coach. The last seven years, Solich has had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne said Solich's experience under Osborne made him a natural choice as the next head football coach.

"Frank Solich is an excellent coach and recruiter who has been courted by many schools across the nation," Byrne said. "One of the things you look for in a head football coach is leadership. But the thing I think that sets Frank apart is not only the leadership he has, but the genuine respect that our coaches and our staff and that our athletes have for him."

"I have every confidence that Frank will continue the success that the Husker football team has enjoyed for so many years. Promoting Frank allows us to maintain the continuity and stability of the program, which is exactly what every school in the country is striving to attain."

The 53-year-old Solich can trace his ties to the Nebraska football program back to the beginning of the Devaney era and the turnaround of Nebraska football. Solich was part of Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska and became a standout fullback for the Huskers in the mid-1960s, lettering in 1963, 1964 and 1965. His playing career earned him induction into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

While some remember Solich for his playing days, most Husker followers are more familiar with his work on Osborne's staff. Noted as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Solich was tabbed Athlon Magazine's Assistant Coach of the Year before the start of the 1993 season.

Solich has been one of the primary factors in making Nebraska the model for the running game in college football. Nebraska led the nation in rushing in nine of Solich's 15 seasons as running backs coach, and finished in the top four every year. In the same period, the Huskers led the conference in rushing 13 times, including each of the last 10 seasons, and finished second in 1986 and 1987. In fact, Nebraska churned out more than 350 yards per game while Solich guided the running backs.

Solich, who recruited and coached 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, produced at least one all-conference running back in 13 of the 15 seasons he tutored that position.

Last season, Nebraska collected its fifth NCAA rushing title in the 1990s, averaging 392.6 yards per game. Leading the way was junior I-back Ahman Green, who earned All-Big 12 and second-team All-America honors. Green rushed for 1,877 yards, the second-best single season in school history, and 22 touchdowns, and capped his season with an Orange Bowl-record 206-yard performance against Tennessee. Green opted to turn pro after his junior season, but his 3,880 career yards rank him as the No. 2 rusher in Nebraska history behind Rozier.

Green's 1997 season continued a run of excellent seasons by Husker I-backs. However, it is not just the I-back position that makes the Nebraska running game strong. Husker fullbacks have been equally important to the ground game for the last 30 years, dating back to Solich's playing days in the 1960s. NU's fullback play was never stronger than in 1997, when junior Joel Makovicka rushed for 685 yards and tied the Husker fullback record with nine touchdowns.

In 1996, Solich had a stable of running backs who combined for more than 2,000 yards despite a series of injuries. Green was a third-team All-Big 12 selection as a sophomore, rushing for a team-high 917 yards. True freshman DeAngelo Evans chipped in 776 yards and scored 14 touchdowns. In 1995, Green broke the school's freshman rushing record with 1,086 yards and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. He was also named the league's offensive newcomer of the year.

Green is just the latest in a long line of running backs who have earned postseason honors and racked up record numbers under Solich. Green became the seventh Husker I-back to be a two-time all-conference selection under Solich, joining Rozier (1982-83), Doug DuBose (1984-85), Keith Jones (1986-87), Ken Clark (1988-89), Derek Brown (1991-92) and Calvin Jones (1992-93). In addition, Lawrence Phillips earned first-team All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors in 1994, en route to the third-best single-season rushing total in school history. Solich-coached running backs own 20 of NU's 28 200-yard single-game rushing performances, while he accounted for one of the other eight himself. In addition, Solich tutored seven of the top eight performers on the school career rushing list, including each of the top four career rushers.

The dominant Husker running game has keyed an offense that helped make Nebraska the most successful college football program in the last 25 years. Osborne won 255 games in the last 25 years, with Solich on the staff for the last 200 of those victories. In fact, Nebraska teams that Solich has been a part of for the last 19 years have posted an amazing 200-33-1 record, for an .861 winning percentage.

In Solich's 19 years on the NU staff, the Huskers have captured three national championships, all while Solich has been assistant head coach. In the same period, Solich has been on the staff of 11 conference championship teams, 19 postseason bowl squads and 15 teams who finished the season ranked in the nation's top 10.

Nebraska running backs have succeeded by developing the same work ethic that made Solich a standout fullback. Despite weighing less than 160 pounds, Solich was an All-Big Eight fullback and co-captain of the Huskers' 1965 team. He held the NU single-game rushing record (204 yards against Air Force in 1965) for 10 years and ranks 43rd on NU's career rushing chart with 1,010 yards. He rushed for 444 yards as a junior in 1964 and was second on the team in 1965 with 580 yards. Solich still holds the Orange Bowl record for return yards with 166 in 1966.

The Husker teams Solich played on started the winning tradition Nebraska has enjoyed for the last 36 years. The Huskers posted records of 9-2, 10-1, 9-2 and 10-1 while Solich was on the roster, won three conference titles and played in four straight bowl games. The 1965 Husker team completed the regular season unbeaten and in position for a national championship, but lost 39-28 to Bear Bryant's Alabama team in the Orange Bowl.

Solich also lettered in baseball for the Huskers in 1965.

A native of Cleveland, Solich prepped at Holy Name High School, where he earned all-state, All-America and all-scholastic honors. He received his bachelor's (1966) and master's (1972) degrees from Nebraska.

After his playing days, Solich began his coaching career in the Nebraska prep ranks. He was the head coach at Holy Name High School in Omaha, Neb., in 1966 and 1967. His Holy Name teams were 8-8 in two seasons and the 1967 team was state runnerup. After two seasons in Omaha, Solich moved to one of the top high school programs in the state at Lincoln Southeast. With Solich in charge of the Knight program, Southeast teams compiled a 66-33-5 record in 11 years. His Southeast teams captured back-to-back Class A state titles in 1977 and 1978. For his efforts, Solich was named the Lincoln Journal Star Nebraska boy's prep coach-of-the-year in 1978. A number of Solich's players at Southeast moved across town to play for Nebraska.

Solich himself made the move to Nebraska before the 1979 season. His first assignment on Osborne's staff was head freshman coach. In 1979, the young Huskers were 4-1, losing only at Missouri. Solich's 1979 team won its final game, beginning a 24-game winning streak for the Husker freshmen that stretched to the 1984 season. Solich finished his four years as freshman coach with a 19-1 record before taking over as coach of the running backs in 1983.

With Solich coaching the backs, Nebraska's running attack had unparalleled success in college football. The biggest honor for a Solich-coached back came in the 1983 season, when senior Mike Rozier captured the Heisman Trophy after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns. While no one has matched Rozier's season, Nebraska has consistently produced some of the nation's top backs under Solich.

In 1984, Nebraska had two first-team All-Big Eight runners as sophomore Doug DuBose and senior Jeff Smith combined to rush for 1,975 yards and 15 touchdowns. As a junior, DuBose gained 1,161 yards to rank ninth nationally in rushing. His 1985 season earned him all-conference and second-team All-America honors. DuBose's backfield running mate in 1985, fullback Tom Rathman, was also an All-Big Eight selection, as he gained 881 yards, a single-season record for Husker fullbacks.

DuBose was primed for a run at the Heisman before a knee injury ended his Husker career in 1986 fall camp. In DuBose's absence, Keith

Jones earned all-league honors by gaining 830 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns. Jones became Solich's second two-time All-Big Eight selection in 1987 by gaining 1,232 yards and 13 touchdowns and averaging a whopping 7.3 yards per carry.

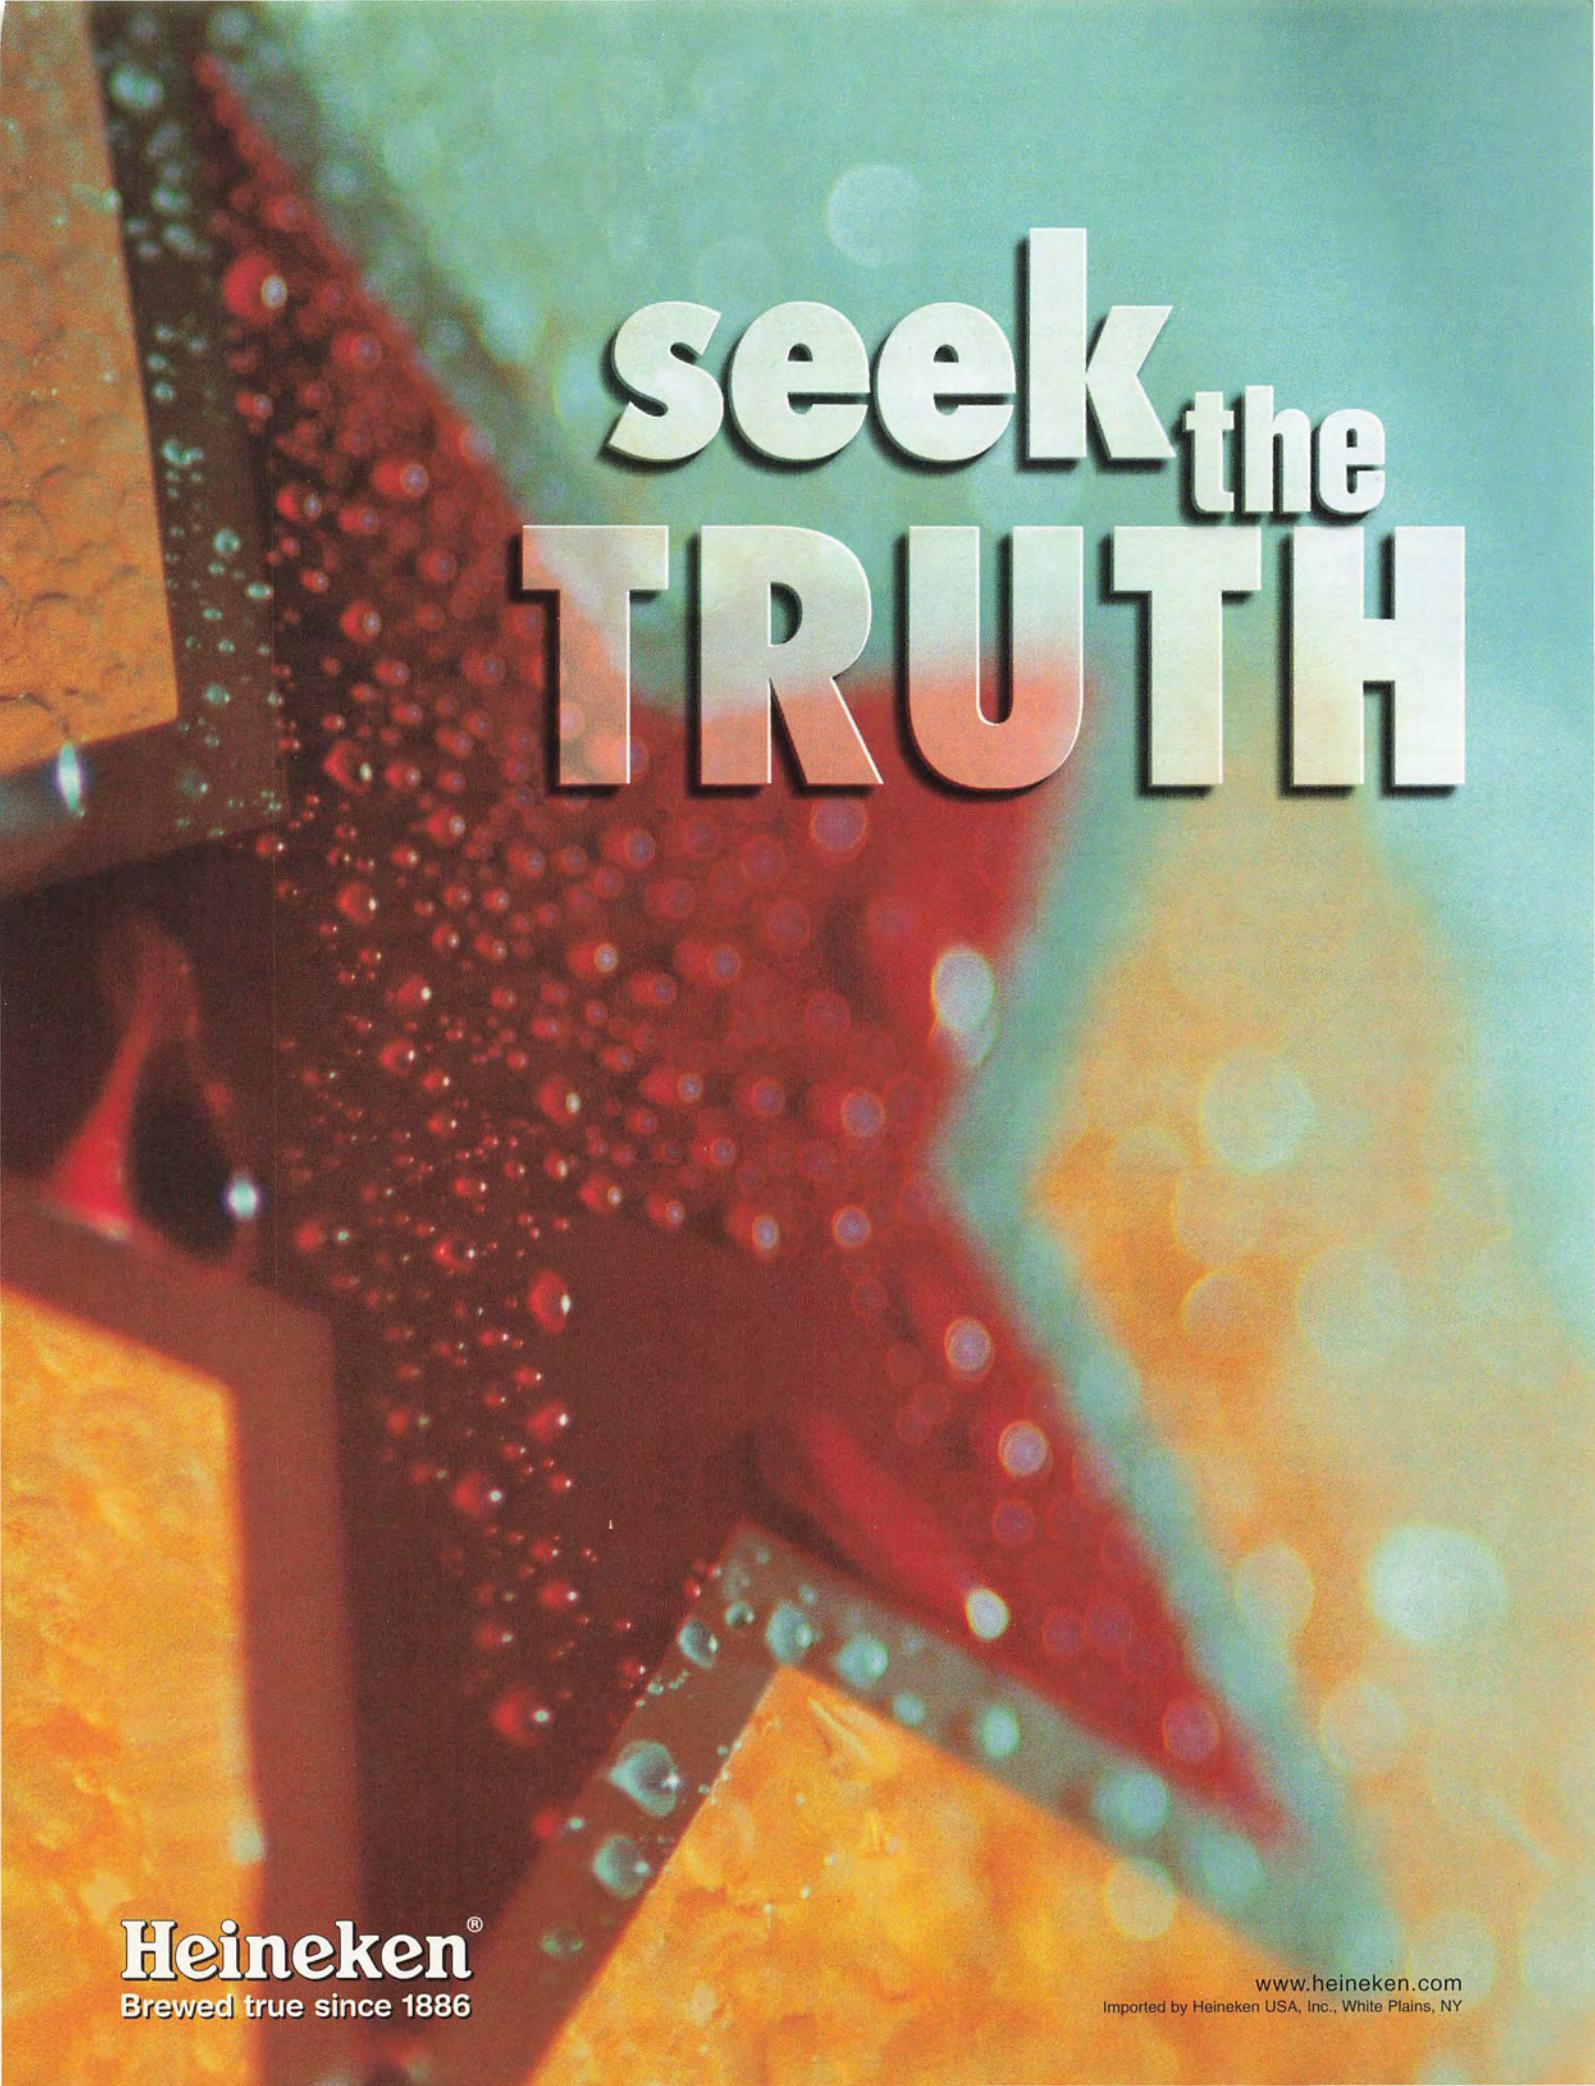

The Solich I-back assembly line continued in 1988 and 1989 with Ken Clark, who earned back-to-back first-team all-conference honors. Clark posted the third-best junior season in NU history in 1988, rushing for 1,497 yards and 12 touchdowns. In 1989, he added 1,196 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank fourth on the Husker career rushing list with 3,037 yards.

After one season without an all-conference back, the Husker "we-backs" hit the scene in 1991. Derek Brown ran through the opposition for 1,313 yards and 14 TDs as a sophomore and earned first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors. Also in 1991, Calvin Jones was named Big Eight Freshman-of-the-Year after rushing for 900 yards, including a Nebraska single-game record 294 yards and six touchdowns at Kansas.

In 1992, Brown and Jones shared time in the Husker backfield and both earned all-league honors. Brown rushed for 1,011 yards, while Jones had 1,210 yards and 14 touchdowns.

After Brown moved on to the NFL following his junior season, Jones was left to carry the load in 1993. Despite an early-season knee injury that ended his Heisman hopes, Jones earned all-conference honors by rushing for 1,043 yards and 12 touchdowns and helping the Huskers to within a missed field goal of a national championship. Jones finished his career with 3,153 yards to rank third in career rushing at Nebraska. He also captured the Big Eight rushing title his final two seasons in Lincoln, the fourth player to wear that crown under Solich, joining Rozier (1983), DuBose (1984) and Keith Jones (1986).

Calvin Jones' early departure to the NFL left the I-back duties in the hands of sophomore Lawrence Phillips in 1994. Phillips responded in record fashion, running for a Nebraska sophomore-record 1,722 yards and 16 touchdowns to earn All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors. He also finished eighth in the Heisman trophy balloting, the highest for a Nebraska player in 10 seasons.

In 1995, Solich started four different players at the I-back spot, including Green, who set the Husker frosh rushing record. Despite the unsettled situation at I-back, the Huskers didn't miss a beat, averaging just less than 400 yards per game and racking up an NCAA bowl-record 524 yards rushing in the Fiesta Bowl win over Florida.

"How do you replace arguably the greatest coach of all time in college football? You get the next greatest coach in college football in Coach Solich. I've had the privilege to be under Coach Solich the past few years, and he has instilled the same thing Coach Osborne has instilled in all the players, that is the work ethic and the values."

Joel Makovicka
Nebraska Senior Fullback

In his 19 years on the Husker staff, Solich has been one of Nebraska's top recruiters. As an assistant, Solich primarily recruited the eastern part of the United States, but also has recruiting experience in the Midwest. He has routinely brought prep All-America players to the Heartland. Several players Solich recruited to Nebraska have gone on to professional careers, including Irving Fryar, Brian Washington, Mike Croel, Tyrone Legette, Donta Jones and Doug Colman.

His ability to bring top talent to Lincoln was evident in his first recruiting class as head coach. Nebraska's incoming class was generally regarded as one of the nation's best and included 10 prep All-Americans and players from eight different states, in addition to Canada.

Solich's duties as an assistant coach under Osborne included several administrative roles. Since 1983, Solich has been the director of the University of Nebraska Football Camp and the director of the University of Nebraska Football Coaches Clinic.

Since Solich took over the camp in 1983, the Husker camp numbers tripled to the current enrollment of 1,500 athletes per summer. Solich's work has also made the Nebraska coaches clinic one of the nation's largest events of its kind. When he took over the project in 1983 the average attendance was about 200 high school coaches. The 1998 clinic attracted more than 1,200 coaches from across the nation.

As Osborne's assistant head coach for seven seasons, Solich was the No. 2 spokesperson for the football team. He has represented the Husker football teams in meetings with the NCAA, Big Eight and Big 12 conferences, as well as media gatherings.

Solich is married to the former Pamela Wieck of Beatrice, Neb., and they have two children, Cindy and Jeff (wife, Chara). Cindy and her husband, John Dalton, have a 3-year-old daughter, Catherine, and a 1-year-old son, Aaron.

Tom Osborne

255-49-3 in 25 Years as NU Head Coach

The words were inscribed on Memorial Stadium's northwest corner some 14 years before he was born: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sports." How fitting then, that the field inside that historic stadium is now called Tom Osborne Field, in honor of a man who, in 25 seasons on the Husker sideline, built a total program based on more than just winning.

Osborne's era of excellence came to an end on Dec. 10, 1997, when he announced he would step aside as Nebraska's head coach. His career ended in fitting fashion in the 1998 Orange Bowl. In his final game as head coach, Osborne's Huskers dismantled third-ranked Tennessee, 42-17, giving him a share of a third national title in his last four seasons. The victory left Osborne as the first man in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion coach.

Winning football games was never a problem for Osborne, but it was far from his only source of motivation. He retired as the nation's winningest active coach by percentage, with a glossy 255-49-3 record, for an .836 winning percentage, a mark that is fifth all-time among Division I coaches. Osborne cemented his place alongside the sport's coaching legends in the last five years, guiding the Huskers to back-to-back titles in 1994 and 1995, then capping his career by sharing the 1997 title with Michigan. Nebraska's back-to-back national titles in 1994-95 made Osborne the first coach to accomplish that feat since Bear Bryant led Alabama to titles in 1978-79. Under Osborne, NU became just the second school all-time and the first since Oklahoma in 1955-56 to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons. In fact, Osborne's last five Nebraska teams put together the best five-year run in collegiate football history with an amazing 60-3 record, including five consecutive 11-win seasons.

Osborne-coached Nebraska teams captured 13 conference crowns, including six in his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went bowling, while 15 won 10 or more games. Achievements of that magnitude earned Osborne an immediate ticket to the College Football Hall of Fame, waiving the customary three-year wait for entrance into the hall. His legendary career also prompted the University's Board of Regents to vote to name the Memorial Stadium playing field in Osborne's honor.

On and off the field, Osborne's players have consistently been highly honored. Nine of his proteges have received the NCAA's highest honor for student-athletes—selection as one of Today's Top Eight—including 1997 recipient Grant Wistrom. That's the most for any individual sports program in the country and accounts for more than two-thirds of NU's nation-leading 13 total selections. Husker gridders who received the honor include guard Randy Schleusener (1981), centers Dave Rimington (1983), Mark Traynowicz (1985) and Jake Young (1990), linebackers Pat Tyrance (1991) and Trev Alberts (1993), and offensive linemen Rob Zatechka (1994) and Aaron Graham (1995).

In 1997, Wistrom was named a first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American for the second straight year and junior fullback Joel Makovicka joined him on the team to boost the Huskers' total to 36 student-athletes. That figure includes 10 two-time picks for a total of 46 first-team academic All-America certificates under Osborne and a nation-leading 52 in school history.

In fact, Osborne's total of 46 first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans is eight more than second-place Notre Dame's 44-year total of 38 (since CoSIDA began honoring athletes in 1952). Osborne's most-honored academian was 1994 Top Eight Award winner and first-team academic All-American Rob Zatechka. In addition to his first-team selection, Zatechka, who was Osborne's first student-athlete to graduate with a cumulative 4.0 grade-point average, was honored as the GTE/CoSIDA Football Academic All-American-of-the-Year and earned the National Football Foundation's Draddy Award as the nation's top football scholar-athlete, the Woody Hayes National Scholar-Athlete Award and the NCAA's Walter Byers Award.

Nebraska has also had 25 NCAA postgraduate scholarship winners and 16 National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete recipients, including Zatechka in 1994.

The honors don't end in the classroom. Husker players have also been decorated for their on-field performances. In 1997, Wistrom became the third Lombardi Award winner under Osborne. In addition, offensive guard Aaron Taylor edged NU defensive tackle Jason Peter for the Outland Trophy, the sixth Outland under Osborne. In 1995, quarterback Tommie Frazier won the school's first Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award and was the Heisman runner-up. The previous year, Zach Wiegert brought home the fifth Outland Trophy in Osborne's head coaching career and the seventh in school history. In 1993, Trev Alberts became the first player in Nebraska history to earn the Butkus Award, given annually to the nation's top collegiate linebacker.

In 1992, Will Shields continued the streak of award-winning excellence by winning the Outland Trophy. The Huskers made history under Osborne by producing three consecutive Outland Trophy winners (Dave Rimington in 1981 and 1982, and Dean Steinkuhler in 1983) and two consecutive Lombardi Award winners (Rimington in 1982 and Steinkuhler in 1983), while also winning the 1983 Heisman Trophy (Mike Rozier).

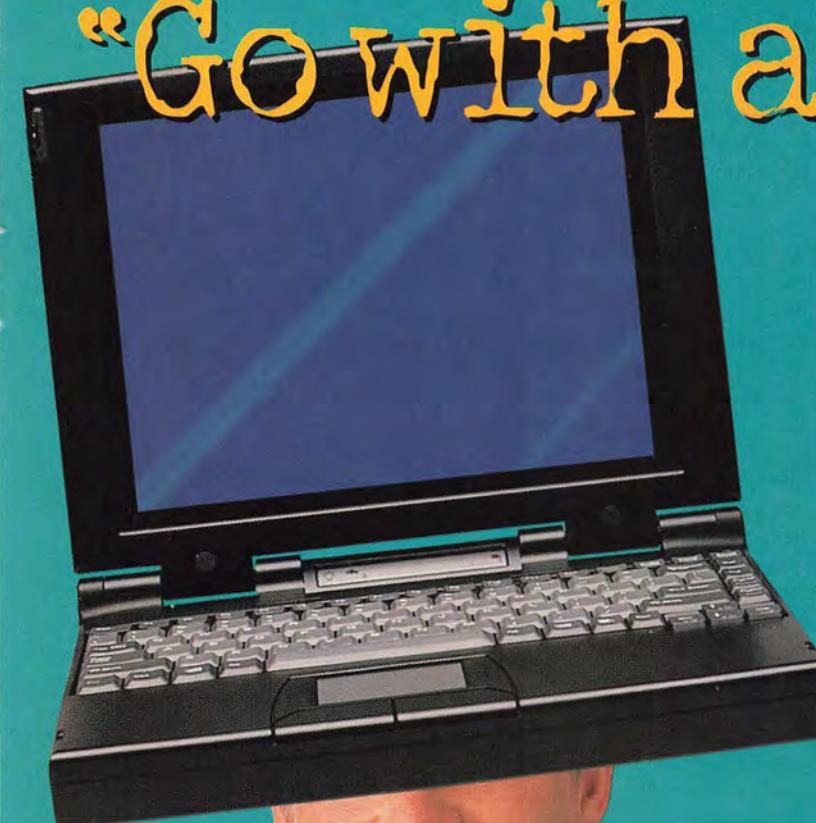

During Osborne's career, 47 players earned All-America honors, including eight two-time All-Americans for a total of 55 selections. In 1997, Wistrom and Taylor became two-time honorees, while Peter received his first All-America award. Nebraska has had 42 consensus All-America picks.

Dad always said, "Go with a winner!"

I can hear him now. "Son, to succeed you've got to find a winner. And ride that sucker straight to the top."

Well, for my money, that's CTX. An international computer products manufacturer with over 12 years experience and nearly a billion dollars in annual sales. (He'd really like that part.)

He'd also like their low prices and huge selection, which includes high-quality CRT displays. Leading-edge LCD monitors and projectors. Award-winning notebooks. And powerful desktops. "Get more than you pay for" was his motto. And with CTX, I always do.

So go with a sure thing. CTX. And who knows? Maybe someday, they'll plaster your face up all over the office. Call 800-888-2120 or visit your campus bookstore for more details.

Nowhere is the consistency of the Husker program more evident than the national polls, where Nebraska was a fixture in each of Osborne's 25 seasons. Nebraska has been ranked in every weekly AP poll since 1981, giving it a poll-record 275 consecutive weeks in the rankings. In Osborne's tenure, NU was ranked in 397 of 400 AP polls, missing one week in 1977 and two in 1981. Nebraska finished among the AP Top 25 every year under Osborne, including 18 Top 10 finishes and 24 Top 20 showings. The Huskers were ranked in the top 10 in the final 87 polls under Osborne, also an NCAA best.

In fact, a study of the final AP polls from 1973 through the 1997 season finds that Nebraska is the nation's most successful program based on rankings. Using a point system of 20 for first, 19 for second, etc., the Huskers scored 330 points to outdistance second-place Michigan's 278 points.

In 25 seasons, Osborne's Huskers posted an impressive 61-37-1 (.621) record against ranked AP teams, easily the best record for a Nebraska mentor. Over the last five seasons, the Huskers were 20-2 against ranked foes, losing only to No. 1-ranked Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl and No. 17 Arizona State in 1996. Osborne is also the only Husker coach to ever beat a No. 1-ranked team—the 17-14 win over Oklahoma in 1978. His Hall of Fame predecessor, Bob Devaney, was 12-12-2 against ranked teams during his Husker career, while all previous NU coaches were a combined 7-35-0.

Beyond the remarkable on-field success story his Husker teams have written in America's heartland, Osborne was committed to making a difference in the lives of his players, staff and the community in which he lives.

A Hastings, Neb., native, Osborne may be the state's best ambassador. He is an advocate of NCAA reform on behalf of all student-athletes, an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and supports many area youth education programs. He led by example and taught his players that life is more than just a 60-minute football game on an autumn afternoon.

Over the last six years, a Big 12-leading 63 percent of Osborne's players left Nebraska with their degrees in hand. His program led the nation in virtually every academic honor available to student-athletes. In short, he built a model Division I-A program, one that combines academic excellence with outstanding play on the field and one that has been passed on at its peak to Osborne's successor, Frank Solich.

Osborne's dedication to the academic community will continue this fall. He is scheduled to teach two courses at UNL—Athletic Coaching 312, "Coaching of Football," and Educational Administration 966A, "Sport in American University." The first is an undergraduate course for students preparing to be high school coaches and the second is for graduate students in the higher education administration program.

In the community, Coach Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have developed a special program for area youths. The Husker Teammates program matches Nebraska football players and mentors in the community with local junior high school students in a big brother/big sister relationship.

Financing for the Husker Teammates program comes from The Osborne Endowment for Youth. The fund, underwritten by the coach and his wife and established seven years ago, helps prevent junior high and middle school youths from dropping out of school and encourages them to continue their education beyond high school. At a 1994 banquet honoring Coach Osborne for his 200th career victory, more than $250,000 was raised for the endowment. This is a tribute not only to Osborne's on-the-field achievements, but also to his desire to make the community a better place to live.

In the spring of 1997, Osborne put his support behind a new program, The Osborne Legacy Project. The program is a two-year, $15 million fund-raising effort by Hastings College, Osborne's alma mater, aimed at improving Hastings' athletic facilities and developing a scholarship program. The campaign is a tribute to the Osborne family's history of involvement with the college.

He also encourages his players to give back to the community, evidenced by the more than 80,000 students his players reach on an annual basis through community outreach activities.

For his efforts on behalf of student-athletes and his work in the community, Osborne was selected as one of eight 1994 Giant Steps Award winners from around the nation by the Northeastern University Center for the Study of Sport in Society. The awards are given annually on National Student-Athlete Day to individuals and/or organizations who exemplify the ideals and provide the support necessary for student-athletes to achieve academic and athletic excellence. Osborne also received the 1995 National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Distinguished American Award.

In addition to those honors, Coach Osborne and Nancy received the 1995 Father Flanagan Award for Service to Youth. The Father Flanagan Award is given in memory of the Boys Town founder and recognizes those whose service to youth is exemplary.

An outstanding high school athlete at Hastings High School in the mid-1950s, Osborne was named Nebraska Prep Athlete-of-the-Year, then passed up major-college scholarship offers to attend the school from which his father and grandfather graduated before him, hometown Hastings College. He became a star quarterback and basketball player for Coach Tom McLaughlin, and in 1959 was named State College Athlete-of-the-Year, becoming the first athlete in Nebraska history to win both the high school and college honors.

After receiving his bachelor's degree from Hastings College in 1959, Osborne played three seasons in the National Football League, two with the Washington Redskins and one with the San Francisco 49ers, where his roommate was Jack Kemp, the former Congressman, presidential candidate and Bush administration Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

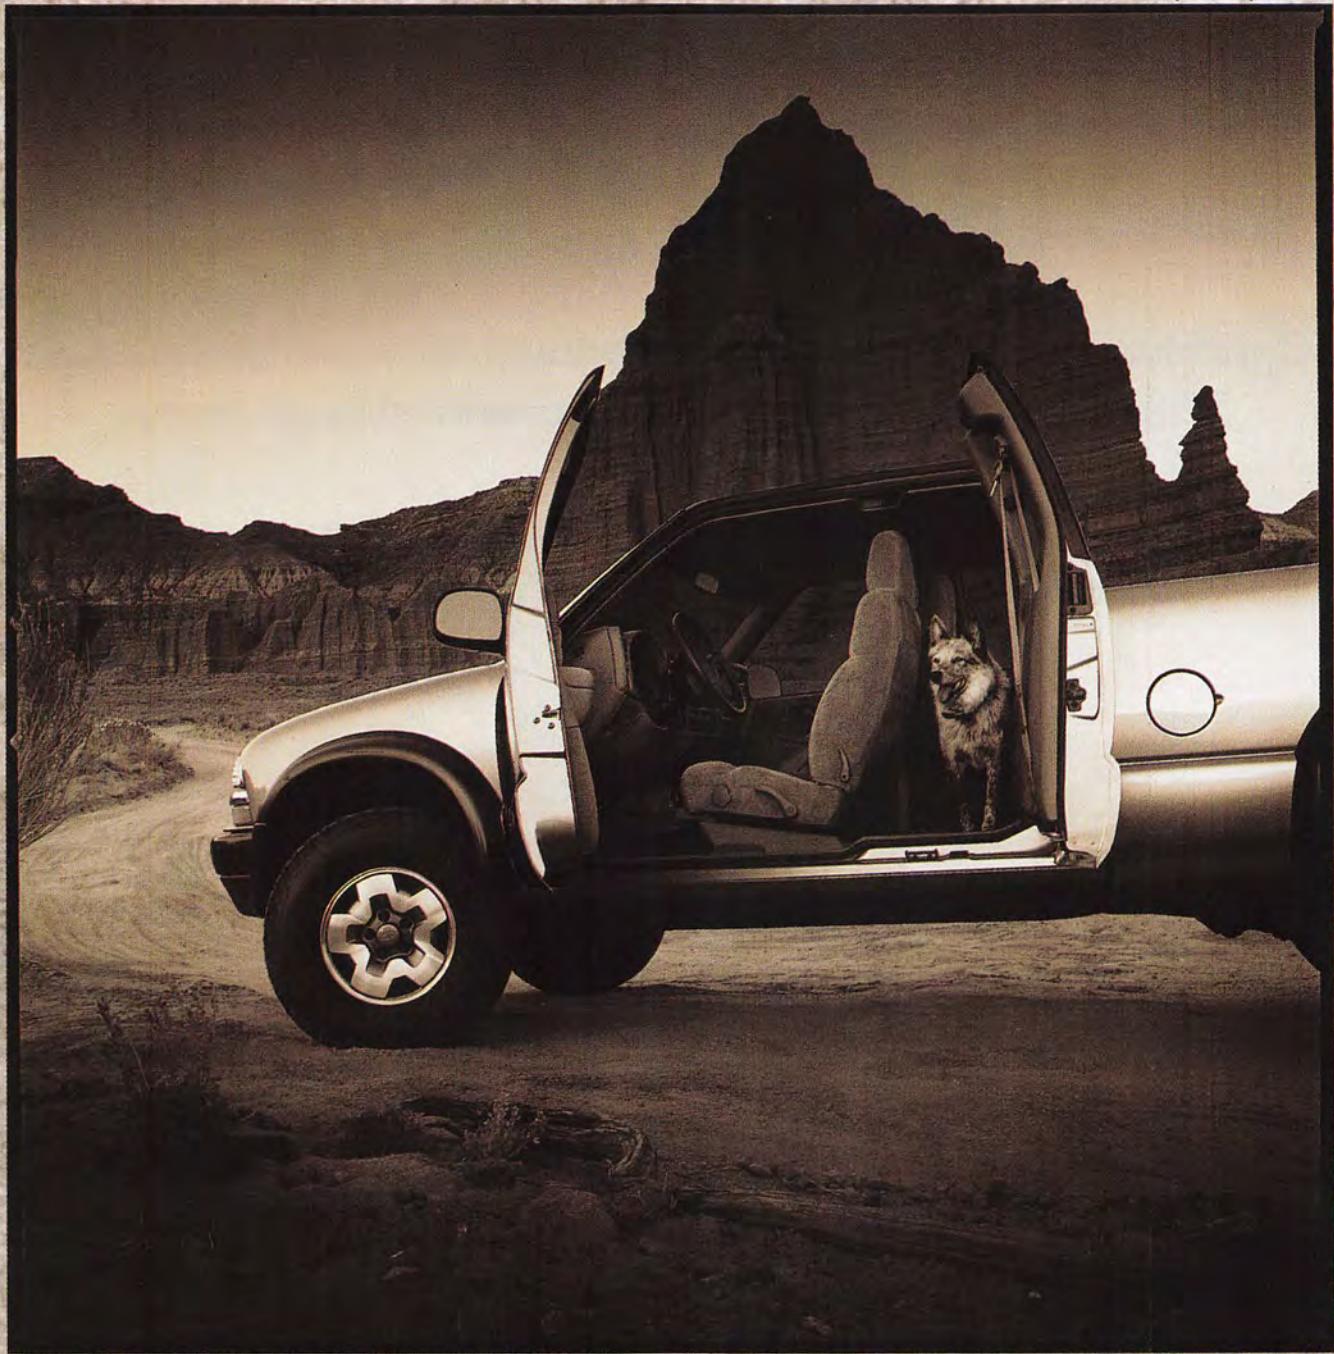

In 1962, he contacted the newly hired Devaney and obtained a graduate assistant's position on the Husker staff. He continued in that capacity until he received his master's degree in 1963, then maintained a triple role of student, teacher and part-time coach at the University. He earned a doctorate in educational psychology in 1965, then elected to pursue coaching as a career in 1967, becoming the Huskers' full-time receivers coach—a decision NU fans have applauded since.

Over the next five years, Osborne was in charge of the Husker passing game, and in his last four seasons as an assistant coach, developed a wingback by the name of Johnny Rodgers, who would become Nebraska's first Heisman Trophy winner in 1972.

When Devaney announced after the 1972 Orange Bowl that he would retire from coaching after the 1972 season, he elevated Osborne to assistant head coach and director of recruiting for his final campaign, and handpicked the then-34-year-old as his successor.

Osborne took over a program that regained national prominence under Devaney, built on it and established his own winning tradition. Osborne and Devaney are one of just three coaching duos to post back-to-back 100-win careers at the same institution (following Penn State's Rip Engle and Joe Paterno and Georgia Tech's John Heisman, Bill Alexander and Bobby Dodd), but the first pair to do it in an astounding 22 years. Since 1962, NU owns a 356-69-5 record for an incredible .834 winning percentage (36 years, 430 games).

Osborne, who was born Feb. 23, 1937, is married to the former Nancy Tederman. They are the parents of a son, Mike, and two daughters, Ann and Suzi. Tom and Nancy have one grandson, William Osborne, and two granddaughters, Catey Osborne and Haley Wilke. Mike followed in his father's footsteps by playing quarterback at Hastings College, graduating in May, 1987.

AT&T PRESENTS: CHAMPIONSHIPS WITHIN REACH

NO SIESTA AT FIESTA

Opportunistic Penn State did just enough to upset Miami in the 1987 Fiesta Bowl and win the national championship.

One of the oldest clichés in sports is good things come to those who wait.

Penn State coach Joe Paterno had waited a long time — 16 seasons as a head coach — before he won his first national championship in 1982 by beating Georgia in the Sugar Bowl.

Of course, the one thing harder than winning a national championship is winning a second one. The Nittany Lions of 1986 made sure a second crown would be brought back to Beaver Stadium with a thrilling win over No. 1 Miami in the 1987 Fiesta Bowl.

After losing to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl earlier in the year to close out the 1985 season, Penn State proved unbeatable, starting with a season opening 45-15 win over Temple, followed by impressive wins over Boston College, East Carolina and Rutgers.

After receiving a scare from Cincinnati, which Penn State beat 23-17, the Lions responded with a 42-3 win over Syracuse, a 23-3 win over Alabama and a 19-0 victory over West Virginia.

Penn State then finished off the regular season with wins over Maryland, Notre Dame and Pitt. Despite the 11-0 record, the pollsters felt that Penn State was the No. 2 team behind Miami, which outscored its opponents 420-136 during the regular season.

The Hurricanes, behind eventual Heisman Trophy winner Vinny Testaverde, opened the season with wins over South Carolina and Florida before routing Texas Tech, 61-11.

Miami rolled through the remainder of the season without being seriously challenged as the Hurricanes defeated Oklahoma, Northern Illinois, West Virginia, Cincinnati, Florida State, Pitt, Tulsa-HC and East Carolina.

The two titans descended on Tempe for the January 2nd showdown dubbed the "Battle for No. 1." As is often the case when two great offensive teams meet, the defenses took over.

In a scoreless first quarter, Penn State was limited to just 12 yards and one first down, while Miami racked up 135 yards and six first downs.

Miami's defense continued to impress in the second quarter when Penn State coughed up the football on their own 32-yard line. Four plays later Melvin Bratton found himself in end zone after a one-yard run with 6:38 left in the half. The Nittany Lions needed only 1:14 to answer, as quarterback John Shaffer scored on a four-yard run that tied the game at seven.

The defenses again settled in during the third quarter as both teams were held scoreless, although Miami had opportunities to blow the game wide open. The Hurricanes scored no points despite drives that ended at Penn State's 21- and 12-yard lines. The Nittany Lions, meanwhile, couldn't even cross midfield against the Hurricane defense.

With 11:49 left in the game, Mark Seelig buried a 38-yard field goal to give Miami a 10-7 advantage. Penn State was stopped on its next drive, then the Lions defense returned the favor, forcing Miami to punt on its next possession.

Despite throwing only eight interceptions during the regular season, Testaverde was picked off five times by Penn State in the Fiesta Bowl, including once by Shane Conlan, the defensive player of the game, at Miami's 43-yard line, which he returned 38 yards to the five-yard line. Two plays later, offensive player of the game D.J. Dozier ran six yards into the Miami end zone to put Penn State up 14-10.

Testaverde brought Miami to within striking distance with 18 seconds left in the game, but Pete Gifopoulos intercepted a pass at the goal line to seal the Lions' second title in the 1980s.

Being a nail-biter to the end, Paterno told reporters afterward that he nearly sought divine intervention.

"I'm not the kind of guy that likes to pray for the Good Lord to take care of a football game," Paterno said. "I figure he has better things to do. But I was tempted to pray."

Miami's offense had racked up 445 yards and 22 first downs and their defense had limited Penn State to 162 yards and eight first downs. But it was the Lions' defense, which forced seven turnovers, that brought the team another title.

Despite winning the Heisman Trophy, Testaverde was left with a bitter taste following the Fiesta Bowl loss. "We had a goal from the beginning of the year and we fell short," he told reporters following the loss. "It's that simple and it hurts a lot."

Building on a Tradition of Excellence

The George W. Beadle Center, a state-of-the-art facility for biotechnology research, is the newest addition to the University of Nebraska skyline. Below, "Torn Notebook" adds another element to a campus known for its outdoor sculpture collection.

For nearly 130 years, the University of Nebraska has been the leading institution of higher education in the state. With more than 22,000 current students and about 190,000 graduates, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the largest campus in the university system. While dedicated to providing the best educational experience for its students, the university is also committed to serving the citizens of the state with a variety of outreach programs.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. It was the first college west of the Mississippi River to confer graduate degrees. As the university system's most comprehensive entity, the Lincoln campus includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The university is a Carnegie Foundation Research Institution I, a member of the American Association of Universities and has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools since 1913.

The university offers 36 doctoral programs, 63 master's degree programs and five six-year specialist degree programs. The College of Law has a professional degree program and jointly administers with the Graduate College eight programs that combine a master's or doctoral degree with a law degree. Nine undergraduate colleges (Agriculture and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Fine and Performing Arts, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Mass Communications, and Teachers) offer more than 120 baccalaureate degree programs in the arts, sciences, humanities and professions.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the university's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and university alumnus.

The university reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offer alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs including summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes.

The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Memorial Stadium – Tom Osborne Field

Nebraska's NCAA Sellout Record Continues to Grow

Nebraska's continuing NCAA record of consecutive home sellouts passed the 200-mark in 1994 and reached 220 with six home sellouts in 1997. On Homecoming, Oct. 29, 1994, against the University of Colorado, Nebraska celebrated its 200th consecutive sellout. In 1988, Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record by averaging 76,342 fans for six home games, breaking the old record average of 76,341 set in 1974.

The string of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 showed up for the Homecoming contest vs. Missouri. The last non-sellout in Memorial Stadium was Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

The Cornhuskers' Memorial Stadium has a seating capacity of 72,700 and attendance has averaged over 75,000 for the past 25 years. Nebraska has ranked in the top six nationally in attendance for many years.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over subscribed. The Stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; and the 422 in Vietnam. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas. Inscribed on the four corners of Memorial Stadium is the following:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust: They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, two major projects were completed in 1984 and 1985. A new artificial turf was installed in 1984 and the new million-dollar Hewit Center training table/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive new strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989. The artificial turf was replaced again in 1992.

Here is the chronological order of Memorial Stadium expansion and improvement from the original 31,000-seat structure built in 1923:

1946--Completion of Schulte Field House at north end of stadium (construction began in 1941, but was interrupted by World War II)

1964--South end zone section installed, making the stadium a horseshoe, raising capacity to the 48,000 mark

1965--Center portion of north end zone section added, raising capacity to more than 53,000

1966--Both wings of the north end zone added, raising capacity to more than 65,000 and making Memorial Stadium into a bowl

1967--New press box, with guest section added, providing a beautiful and practical press facility

1970--Installation of AstroTurf

1972--South end zone extended, 9,400 seats added, raising capacity to 73,650

1973--Athletic office building completed, housing dressing and training facilities for varsity football

1977--Installation of new AstroTurf replacing the 1970 turf, and a new scoreboard over the north stadium

1980--Completed top deck of press box for additional photo and visiting radio TV space

1981--New west stadium weight room and new visitor's locker room in Schulte Field House

- 1982--Expansion of Schulte Field House indoor practice area
- 1984--New artificial All-Pro Turf playing surface installed
- 1985--Completion of Hewit Center (dining area/study hall) in West Stadium
- 1989--Expansion of strength complex and Hewit Center
- 1992--New Astroturf-8 artificial turf installed
- 1994--Installation of Mitsubishi Instant Replay boards and remodeling of Section 14 to accomodate disabled, reduced seating to 72,700
- 1995--South Stadium training room remodeled and new interview room and player lounge completed during season
- 1997--Progress continued after the 1997 season on the $36 million Stadium Improvement project which will include 42 skyboxes, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, new press box and renovated concourses. The entire project will be completed before the 1999 season. Before the 1997 season, the east concourse was renovated with new restrooms and concessions and the stadium lights were installed on the east side.
- 1998--Stadium was rededicated and the football field was named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne, who retired as the winningest active coach in college football, with a 255-49-3 career record.

Huskers Boast Impressive Record in 75 Years at Memorial Stadium

Nebraska football teams for the past 75 years have been glad to call Memorial Stadium home. Evidence for this is a 305-98-13 (.749) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 35-12-3 all time under the lights, including 7-1-0 at home.

Nebraska's NCAA-record sellout streak reached 220 games in 1997. The Huskers have sold out every home game since November 3, 1962, Bob Devaney's first season as head coach.

1998-99 Husker Women's Swimming

Head Coach: Cal Bentz (seventh season)

1997-98 Record: 10-0

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 21/5

All-Americans Returning/Lost: 10/3

After winning five consecutive conference crowns, including the last two Big 12 titles, and finishing in the top 10 at the NCAA Championships in three of the past four seasons, the Nebraska women's swimming and diving team has established itself as a team that belongs in the national spotlight. What remains for upcoming seasons is the opportunity to emerge among the top five teams in the country, which according to Head Coach Cal Bentz, is not out of the question.

"With the caliber of talent that we have on this team, the potential is almost endless," Bentz said. "We have established Nebraska as a power among collegiate swimming and diving, and I think we can take it to another level this year."

The Huskers return 10 All-Americans and eight Big 12 Champions for the 1998-99 season, headlined by a pair of sophomores coming off sensational freshmen campaigns. Last year, Omaha native Shandra Johnson took the Big 12 by storm, shattering four conference records en route to being named Big 12 Outstanding Performer and Newcomer-of-the-Year. Johnson set league marks by winning the 500-yard freestyle (4:43.48), the 200-yard freestyle (1:46.53), the 200-yard backstroke (1:58.35) and competing on NU's 800-yard freestyle relay (7:12.70). Johnson anchored the 800-free relay at the NCAA Championships, which finished just one tenth of a second behind Arizona for second place and All-America honors.

Fellow sophomore Therese Alshammar of Sweden began her career as a Husker last season, but was already established as one of the world's top sprint freestylers. Alshammar set three school records at the Big 12 Championships, finishing third in the 50-yard freestyle (22.60) and taking runner-up honors in both the 100-yard freestyle (49.26) and 100-yard backstroke (54.77). Alshammar earned All-America honors in three individual events and the four relays, including NU's runner-up 800-yard free relay.

Other returning All-Americans include Anna Windsor, Helene Muller and Beth Karaica, a trio of freestyle specialists who have been catalysts to the NU program over the past two seasons. Senior All-American and Big 12 Champion Destiny Lauren returns to defend her Big 12 crown in the 200-yard butterfly, while All-American Terrie Miller, who missed most of last season recovering from shoulder surgery, looks to be one of the top breaststrokers in the nation.

Sophomore Amanda Zins leads the diving corps. Last season, the Lincoln native placed seventh on the one meter and fifth on the three meter at the Big 12 Championships and was an NCAA Zone qualifier. Freshmen Janna Brock and Emma Johnson will greatly benefit the Husker diving corps. Brock is a two-time state breaststroke champ from Texas who recently competed on the United States Goodwill Games team, while Johnson was a member of Australia's Olympic squad in 1996.

A tough schedule should make for interesting preparation before the Big 12 and NCAA Championships. NU travels to Dallas in early November for the SMU Lady Mustang Invite, traditionally one of the toughest meets nationally. On Nov. 20, Lincoln will play host to the Sprint Classic, to be followed the Husker Shoot Out on Nov. 21-22. Dual battles with Minnesota, Penn State, and Stanford in January and February also dot the schedule. Nebraska will be looking for its third consecutive Big 12 crown in Austin, Texas, Feb. 18-20, while NU tries to maintain its position among the nations elite at the NCAA Championships in Athens, Ga., March 18-20.

1998-99 Husker Men's Swimming

Head Coach: Cal Bentz (23rd season)

1997-98 Record: 7-3

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 20/6

All-Americans Returning/Lost: 7/3

For the Nebraska men's swimming and diving team, the challenges remain the same. Focus is placed toward season's end when the Huskers must lock horns with nationally prominent Texas, the two-time defending conference champion, and aim for a top-10 finish at the NCAA Championships for the first time since the 1989 season.

"We have a good nucleus returning," Nebraska Head Coach Cal Bentz said. "Talent wise, we are as good as we have ever been, it's up to us to capitalize on that, and I'm optimistic we can."

The Huskers lose three All-Americans to graduation, but return the tools necessary for an assault on Texas' Big 12 reign and a spot among the nation's elite, returning seven All-Americans from the team that finished second to the Longhorns in the Big 12 race last season and placed 18th at the NCAA Championships.

Heading the roster are All-Americans Adam Pine and Danny Bergman. Pine, originally from Ballina, Australia, is the sixth-fastest butterfly to ever compete in a collegiate pool and a nine-time All-American who owns the Big 12 record in the 100-yard butterfly and the NU mark in the 100-yard freestyle. Last season, Pine finished fourth in the 100-yard fly after placing second in the event in 1997.

Bergman has managed to establish himself as one of the best divers in school history. An Alpine, Utah, native, Bergman has earned All-America honors on both the one- and three-meter boards the past two seasons, winning the Big 12 crown on the one-meter board in 1998.

The Huskers also return a pair of conference champions in Michael Windisch and Valery Kalmikov. Last season, Windisch broke his own conference record in winning the 400-yard IM at the Big 12 meet before going on to earn All-America honors in the event. Kalmikov won the Big 12 title in the 200-yard breaststroke last season.

Other All-Americans returning included Bert Locklin, Keith Ebbert and David Foster. Locklin makes for a great complement to Bergman on the diving boards. Last season, Locklin finished seventh on the three-meter board at the NCAA Championships. Ebbert was the Big 12 runner-up in the 200-yard IM last year, while Foster, a Lincoln native, established a new school record in the 100-yard backstroke and earned All-America honors on three NU relays last season.

NU also welcomes a pair of newcomers that could contribute to the team. Anthony Rogis of Weetangera, Australia, comes to Nebraska as one of the better freestylers in Australia. Javier Botello of Madrid, Spain, ranks as one of the best sprinters from his native country.

Accompanying Texas in the Big 12 race will be Texas A&M, Kansas, Iowa State and Missouri. The Devaney Center will play host to the Sprint Classic and Husker Shoot Out, welcoming Arizona State and Virginia. NU will also be tested with dual contests against defending national champion Stanford, SMU, Iowa and Harvard, preparing the Nebraska for conference and national competition.

season, Coach Straub has the luxury of returning two All-Americans among four starters with the addition of the top high school bowling prospect in the nation.

The Huskers will be led by senior All-American Jen Daugherty. The Bloomington, Ill., native paced the Huskers with a 202 average in 88 games last season. Daugherty was the 1997 Intercollegiate Bowling Championships Most Valuable Bowler and took second at the ACU-1 regional meet.

Daugherty will be joined by junior Kim Claus (Mesquite, Texas). Claus, an honorable-mention All-American selection, had a 201 average during the 1997-98 season. In addition, sophomores Tammy Jordan and Stacy Rogers also return after holding places in the starting lineup last season.

The returnees will be joined by a recruiting class headlined by Diandra Hyman. A Dyer, Ind., native, Hyman was selected as the Alberta E. Crowe Award winner, symbolic of the top female high school bowler in the nation. Hyman is joined by Amanda O'Hayre, the Colorado High School Bowler-of-the-Year in 1998, and Jennifer Johnston and Christie Couvillon.

Coach Straub is optimistic about the upcoming campaign.

"We are looking forward to the season," Straub said. "We return four of our top six bowlers, including a pair of All-Americans, and we have a strong recruiting class coming in. On paper, we should be in pretty good shape."

"Our schedule is going to challenge us," Straub said. "During the fall, we are pointing to the Southern Classic in Atlanta. It should be a good early-season test for us before regionals and nationals in the spring."

Be a part of the "Tunnel Walk" at Memorial Stadium

Moments before the Nebraska football team takes the field, the coaches and players follow a path from the locker room to Tom Osborne Field. This walk, which is known as the "Tunnel Walk" by the Husker faithful, has become an important game-day tradition at Memorial Stadium.

Beneath the players is the Big Red Boulevard, a brick walkway that stretches to the field. After Coach Osborne won his first of three national championships in 1994, the Big Red Boulevard was created to add to the tradition of the "Tunnel Walk". Now you can become a key part of the tradition.

We invite all dedicated Husker fans to have their own or someone else's name engraved in one of the Boulevard's bricks. Help support the Huskers' five national titles and help the University of Nebraska maintain and improve the finest athletic facilities in the nation.

Your Big Red Boulevard investment is a one-time tax-deductible gift to the University of Nebraska Athletic Department.

For more information on how to become part of the Big Red Boulevard, please contact the Athletic Development Office at 402-472-2367.

Home matches in bold at the Nebraska Coliseum. All times are Central Time. *Big 12 Conference matches.

The Nebraska volleyball team is looking to return to the Final Four for the third time in four years after coming one match shy from making a third consecutive trip to the Final Four last season.

The Huskers have high hopes of winning their first national championship since 1995 with a group of three seniors returning to lead the 1998 squad. Two-time All-America setter Fiona Nepo is NU's top returner. Nepo has 3,293 career set assists and needs just 494 assists this season to eclipse the school record of Nebraska assistant coach Nikki Best. Nepo, a native of Honolulu, Hawaii, has had more than 1,600 assists in each of the past two seasons.

Leading the offensive attack are senior outside hitter Jaime Kondak and senior middle blocker Megan Korver. Kondak missed 10 matches last season because of a back injury, but should be 100 percent for the 1998 campaign. A tough server, she led the team with 25 service aces. Korver has led the Huskers in blocks per game the past two seasons and will again be the stopper in the middle.

Outside hitters Mandy Monson and Angie Oxley will also contribute greatly to the Husker attack after stellar years in 1997. Monson started every match as a sophomore, averaging 2.82 kills and 3.25 digs per game. Oxley did not play the first 17 matches, but with key injuries, she was brought out a redshirt season. Oxley was impressive, earning Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year honors as she averaged 2.84 kills and 3.16 digs per game.

Replacing three-time All-American Lisa Reitsma falls on the shoulders of sophomore Nancy Meendering. A left-hander who attended the same high school as Reitsma, Meendering will fill the role as right-side attacker.

Conference Newcomer-of-the-Year Katie Jahnke and fellow middle blocker Tonia Tauke will play a key role in the front row in 1998. Both played in more than 90 games last season. Defensive specialists Nikki Henk and Kim Crandall will add depth to the back row, as well as Denise Koziol, who began last season as an outside hitter, but moved to a more defensive role. Sophomore setter Jim McWilliams will remain as Nepo's backup and could see more playing time in a 6-2 offense. Sophomore outside hitter Kim Behrends should also see time after playing sparingly last season.

Newcomers and middle blockers Jenny Kropf and Pam Krejci will add depth behind Korver, Jahnke and Tauke.

University of Nebraska Songs

(The official field song for Nebraska)

Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies,
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraska.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We will fight to win,
And we're going to win today.

CHORUS

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle,
Our colors are still seen.
So in contest and in victory,
We will wave then for the team,
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker,
The Old Scarlet and Cream.

There Is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

The Alma Mater

Refrain:
Nebraska, Nebraska
We pledge you our true loyalty
Nebraska, Nebraska
A good life for you and for me.

Verse I
We have scarlet and cream as our colors
And we wear them proudly to our games
For the Pride of the Cornhusker legend
And for the school that we cherish to remain.

Refrain

Verse 2
Here to learn for an undiscovered future
And to build from a classical past
We are proud of our dear Alma Mater
We'll support her to help her always last.

Refrain

Verse 3
When the moon shone bright on the colors,
And those memories make you say,
When we kissed on that night at the columns
And the sun shone bright on Ivy Day.

Refrain

Her music reflects her home State—honest and direct. Articulate, literate and a remarkable songwriter, Jannel is an artist destined to forge new ground in the Lilith Fair tradition. An eclectic mix of the best of folk, rock and country, Sea of RED sets a new standard for female singer/songwriters.

A portion of the proceeds from all sales of the Sea of RED CD will be donated to Dr. Tom Osborne's TEAMMATES Mentoring Program and the St. Elizabeth Children's Health Fund.

NCAA Top Eight Award

In the history of college athletics, honors for athletes have never been so abundant as they are for today's sports stars. The college sports scene is saturated with individual awards of recognition on the school, conference, national and even international levels.

But among the honors and recognition for achievement, there is no award more prestigious and meaningful to today's college student-athlete than the NCAA Top Eight Award.

It is presented annually to the top eight student-athletes in their senior year of college.

This year's honorees are:

Lisa Coole

The 1997 NCAA Woman of the Year, Coole became the first swimmer in Georgia history to earn the maximum-possible seven first-team all-American awards in swimming. She also won NCAA individual-event titles in 100 butterfly and the 200 freestyle relay, and won gold, silver and bronze medals in the 1995 World University Games.

Coole graduated cum laude with a degree in biology. She was a 1997 NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient and a GTE Academic All-America honoree.

Coole died in a car accident in Spring 1998.

Carrie Ferguson

A two-sport athlete (basketball and volleyball), Ferguson helped guide Capital to two Division III Women's Basketball Championship titles and a third-place finish during her four-year basketball career.

Ferguson graduated with a degree in psychology, placing first in her class. She was selected as an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient and was a GTE Academic All-America honoree.

Brian Gries

Gries led Michigan to the No. 1 ranking in the country and a victory over Washington State in the 1998 Rose Bowl.

The Wolverines' school record-holder for most touchdown passes in a game with four, Gries was a GTE Academic All-America honoree and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient.

Peyton Manning

Manning, after returning for his senior season instead of turning professional, leaves Tennessee with 33 school records. Runner-up in the 1998 Heisman Trophy voting, he led the Volunteers to an 11-2 record and a berth in the 1998 Orange Bowl against Nebraska.

Manning was a 1997 National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient.

Kasey Morlock

Named the 1997 Rawlings Division II player of the year, Morlock helped lead the North Dakota State basketball team to three straight national titles. She also competed on the school's volleyball team.

Morlock graduated with a degree in electrical engineering. She was a GTE Academic All-America honoree and a two-time conference all-academic team selection.

Obadele Thompson

Thompson is the world indoor track record holder at 55 meters, with a time of 5.99 seconds. He placed fourth in the 200-meter run at the 1996 Olympic Games.

The 1997 NCAA 100-meter dash champion, Thompson was a GTE Academic

All-America honoree. He earned membership in Beta Gamma Sigma as one of the top seven percent of all business students in the United States during 1996.

Meredith Willard

An NCAA Woman of the Year finalist at Alabama, Willard won the all-around competition at the 1996 National Collegiate Women's Gymnastics Championships.

Willard graduated with a degree in marketing. She was an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient. Willard was a National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches (Women) scholastic all-American three consecutive years.

Grant Wistrom

All-American football player Grant Wistrom is the all-time leader in career tackles-for-loss at Nebraska.

A 1996 Lombardi Award semifinalist, Wistrom was a recipient of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Postgraduate Scholarship and was an NCAA postgraduate scholarship selection. ■

HuskerVision

Five years ago, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne had a "vision" to make Memorial Stadium the first college football stadium in the country to have big screen replay boards. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project this big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

When HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, though, Byrne's vision proved to be correct, as the big screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker game-day experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at an exclusive college venue. The only other college games which previously had boards available were those played in stadiums which are home to professional football teams.

The screens stand 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide, (388 square feet), and each screen is formed by more than 90,000 lighting dots. These dots form 5,632 lighting elements, units and module cabinets, plus video processing electronics are manufactured by Mitsubishi Electronics. The cost of the system is being paid entirely by commercial sponsorships.

Beside the obvious advantage of being able to view replays and game action on two huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

First, the screens are the most important ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000 watt sound system, the replay boards help make "The Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in many years.

Like the Husker football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week prior to a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, mug shots and other clips and features which appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, the HuskerVision crew is headed by Director of HuskerVision Jeff Schmahl. Schmahl is in charge of the control room personnel which includes eight people, while three other members of the staff operate cameras on the field. Also operating in conjunction with much of HuskerVision's features is public address announcer Rick Schwieger, who also serves as a production specialist for the athletic department. Shot Kleen is HuskerVision's chief engineer and Kirk Hartman is a HuskerVision video production specialist.

In 1994, Memorial Stadium became the first collegiate football venue to have video replay boards.

HuskerVision is housed in the state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium. This area includes office space to accommodate four full-time employees and a staff of student assistants. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, non-linear editing room and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced over 100 television shows, including the Tom Osborne Show, the Kickoff Show, as well as coaches shows for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and the Olympic sports at Nebraska.

This season, The Frank Solich Show will be produced Saturday night after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Football Kickoff Show and The Aliant Communications Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Danny Nee Show and The Paul Sanderford Show will be broadcast on a state-wide basis. Throughout the year, the Husker Show, an Olympic sports magazine program, features many of Nebraska's 24 varsity programs.

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 24 varsity sports. The HuskerVision crew has annually produced and marketed highlight tapes on the Nebraska football season. For the past five years, HuskerVision has produced and marketed nine highlight tapes and more than 100,000 tapes have been purchased by NU football fans.

Long known for having one of the best atmospheres in all of college football, Memorial Stadium has become an even better venue for fans with the addition of HuskerVision. With other improvements on the way, Memorial Stadium is sure to remain one of the nation's most dramatic settings for a college football game.

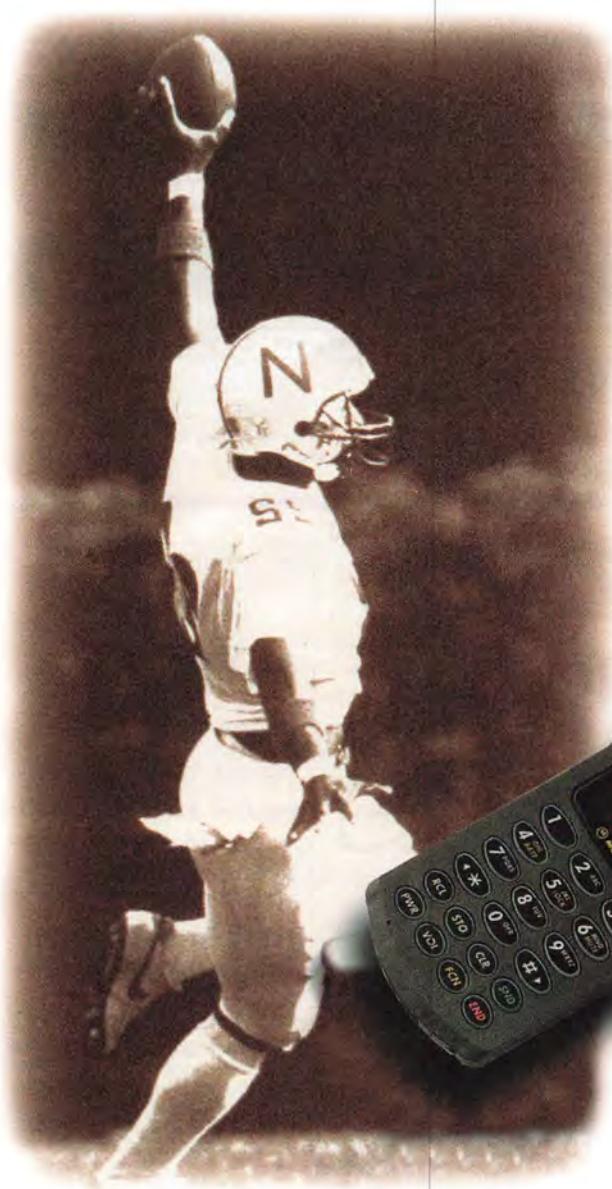

The state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio, located on the West Stadium Concourse, helps the HuskerVision crew produce more than 100 shows during the year.

Big 12 Conference . . . Creating a Legacy

One of the nation's most prolific conferences, the Big 12 maintains its leadership role in academic, student life, competition, sportsmanship and compliance areas within the NCAA framework.

Dedicated to achieving the highest goals in the integration of academic and athletic endeavors, Baylor, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech combined forces on February 25, 1994, and forged the Big 12 Conference, one of the most powerful alliances in NCAA Division I competition.

Individually, member schools have long been respected for successes both in its classrooms and its stadiums. In all, conference institutions have received accolades for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, Big 12 teams have accounted for more than 150 national team championships—138 NCAA and 16 wire service football titles—while its student-athletes have claimed more than 800 NCAA crowns entering the 1998-99 academic year.

The formation of the Big 12 represented an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve higher levels of performance heading into the 21st Century.

Institution chancellors and presidents serve as chief policy makers for the conference, operating as the Board of Directors. Administration of the circuit occurs through the Council of Faculty Athletics Representatives, Board of Athletic Directors and Board of Senior Woman Administrators.

The Big 12 took a bold step toward community service in May, 1996, by adopting Special Olympics as its primary philanthropy. Other charitable and community service organizations such as the Lou Groza National Collegiate Place Kicker Award, NCAA YES Program and Best Buddies, to name a few, have the sponsorship of the conference. Member-institutions have provided facilities for local, regional and national Special Olympics competition for years, but under the Big 12 blanket, Special Olympians, their coaches and their fans have the opportunity to interact as recipients of clinics and other cooperative efforts in conjunction with Big 12 events. In August, 1996, Executive Directors of Special Olympics in the seven-state area and Big 12 officials decided to promote the national movement through public service announcements aired to all 50 states and overseas' markets during Big 12 football and basketball games and on the weekly "Big 12 Showcase" television program.

Another innovative venture of the Big 12 is the development of the Life Skills Program and Academic Services. Programs such as the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Special Olympics and the YES program of clinics and stay-in-school messages to youngsters are a few of the life skills areas promoted by the Big 12. Student-athletes play an active role in community endeavors such as hospital visits, youth school programs, enhance/eligibility information and anti-violence campaigns promoted through local appearances and public service announcements aired during Big 12 contests.

Exposure is key in any endeavor of this magnitude, and the Big 12 has one of the best regional and national telecast agreements in the nation. ABC and Fox Sports Net combine to produce nearly 40 football games annually in syndicated, regional, national and prime-time windows. The Big 12 blankets television on the Friday after Thanksgiving with back-to-back national grid telecasts of Texas-Texas A&M and Colorado-Nebraska.

ESPN and ESPN Regional provide regional over-the-air syndication, national cable and national network coverage of up to 90 men's basketball games per season. The Big 12 is a mainstay in the ESPN lineup with the highest rated college basketball slot on "Big Monday." In addition to the highly successful syndicated package within the seven-state conference region, ESPN Regional markets 10 games annually to CBS and ABC for the Big 12. All 11 games of the Big 12 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament are aired either regionally or nationally. Fox Sports Net relies on Big 12 supplied programming of regular-season volleyball, and women's basketball while televising nearly 30 events per year. Big 12 championships also have a home at Fox Sports Net. At least eight Big 12 Olympic championships are televised on either a regional or national cable basis, and Fox Sports Net boasts one of the best weekly collegiate programs in the 39-installment "Big 12 Showcase." ESPN ventures into the mix by promoting and televising an annual Big 12 women's basketball challenge and will air the 1998 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament title game.

In all, packages with ABC, Fox Sports Net and ESPN guarantee the Big 12 the finest intercollegiate coverage through the year 2000 (2003 with ABC for football television) and $145 million to member institutions.

The Big 12 hit the field with Oklahoma claiming the inaugural conference title in softball on May 11, 1996. Big 12 football kicked off in grand fashion as Kansas State defeated Texas Tech 21-14 on Aug. 31, 1996, in Manhattan, Kan. Texas edged Nebraska, 37-27, in the first Dr. Pepper Big 12 Football Championship Game to allow the conference to gain two Bowl Alliance berths and to bring a very successful 1996 to a close.

The Big 12 utilizes a North-South divisional format in football, with the two Oklahoma schools and the four Texas schools making up the Big 12 South and the remaining six schools complete the Big 12 North. The champions of each division face each other in an electric showdown in early December to determine the Big 12 representative to the Bowl Alliance. Thanks to the high level of competition, the Big 12 has been the only conference with two teams participating in the alliance in each of the last two years, and Nebraska clinched the national title in the ESPN/USA TODAY football poll on Jan. 2, 1998, with a 42-17 victory over Tennessee in the FedEx Orange Bowl. In addition to the alliance, the Big 12 has five other bowl agreements with the Southwestern Bell Cotton Bowl Classic, Plymouth Holiday Bowl, Builders Square Alamo Bowl, Jeep Aloha Bowl and Copper Bowl.

In 1997-98, the 21 regular season championship trophies were divided among seven schools. Nebraska won the Big 12 all-sports title by capturing six trophies (football, softball, women's gymnastics, women's swimming and diving and men's indoor and outdoor track). Texas took five titles (volleyball, men's swimming and diving, women's indoor and outdoor track and women's tennis), while Texas A&M claimed three crowns (men's soccer, women's golf, men's tennis). Colorado (men's and women's cross country), Oklahoma State (wrestling and men's golf) and Texas Tech (men's basketball and baseball) each captured two titles, while Kansas (men's basketball) earned the final conference crown.

Men's programs regulated by the conference include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor/outdoor track and field, swimming and diving, tennis, and wrestling. Big 12-regulated women's programs include basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor/outdoor track and field, soccer, softball, swimming and diving and tennis.

The University of Nebraska strength and conditioning program known as Husker Power has proven to be the premier program in the country for improving athletes' strength, speed and agility. Now the know-how once reserved for Nebraska's collegiate athletes is available to you.

Learn from the Best

The Husker Power staff consists of strength and conditioning specialists who work with Nebraska's collegiate athletes on a day-to-day basis. Husker Power has assisted in producing All-Americans, World Record Holders and National Champions in a variety of sports. Male and female athletes alike have benefited from Husker Power.

Train to be the Best

Now you can benefit from Husker Power as well. As an administrator or coach, you can help your athletes improve their performance by serving as host to a Performance Clinic. Clinics are conducted on-site, allowing for Husker Power staff members to educate your athletes about every area of strength and conditioning training.

As an athlete, there are two ways to work with Husker Power directly. Performance Camp is a one day event where you receive instruction allowing you to implement the "Make the Play" program on your own. It includes drills and demonstrations to improve speed, power and agility.

For the athlete who has made training a top priority, Performance 101 is the best summer course available. Athletes spend six weeks training at the West Stadium Strength Complex with Husker Power staff members. You will receive one-on-one instruction on all facets of strength and conditioning training. The training is intense, but the results speak for themselves. For high school athletes, there is no better opportunity to improve your strength and conditioning.

If you are interested in improving your performance, call for a free brochure.

performance Clinic

Husker Wheel Club

Automobile Dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team" which includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, Husker Educational Award group, Director's Club, Touchdown Club, Extra Point Club, Beef Club, Rebounders and the courtesy car program.

The Nebraska Radio Network

Pinnacle Sports Productions begins its third year of producing live broadcasts of the University of Nebraska sporting events. Pinnacle, now owned by Triathlon, purchased the rights on Feb. 9, 1996, and was approved by the board of regents on Feb. 24.

The Pinnacle Sports contract began with the 1996-97 season and runs through the 2000-2001 season. It includes the exclusive radio broadcast rights to Nebraska football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball and volleyball. The contract has guaranteed rights fees of $8.6 million dollars over five years. In addition to game coverage, Pinnacle Sports provides a daily, live call-in show focusing on NU athletics and other sports in the area.

Pinnacle Sports Productions heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, allowing Husker games to be heard nationwide. KKAR owns the rights as the Omaha affiliate, while KLIN retains the rights to Nebraska athletics in the Lincoln market. As of press time, Pinnacle Sports had put together a 60-station network, including 36 in-state and 24 out-state stations, covering 15 states.

Criteria used in evaluating bids included guaranteed annual fees; confidence in the bidder's ability to realize such fees; ability to put together a network; additional proposed programming; availability of a viable radio production facility and personnel; coverage of women's sports; other sports coverage committed; air wave coverage of the state of Nebraska and key out-of-state locations; and willingness and ability to promote the University of Nebraska in all areas, including non-athletic concerns.

Paul Aaron of Elkhorn, Neb., is president of Pinnacle Sports Productions. His staff includes Patty Aaron, Laurel McLane, Joni Woodruff (marketing) and Elizabeth Pate (office manager).

Announcer Warren Swain

The radio contract change also brought about a change in the on-air talent for Husker athletics. Veteran sportscaster Warren Swain begins his third year as the play-by-play voice of Husker football and men's basketball. Swain has been in the sports radio business for nearly three decades and was the radio voice of University of Virginia football, basketball and lacrosse from 1986 to 1996.

Swain has also held play-by-play assignments at Drake University, the University of Oregon, Iowa State University and Hastings College. Swain was named Virginia Sportscaster-of-the-Year six times, most recently in 1994, as well as earning Iowa and Oregon Sportscaster-of-the-Year honors.

After growing up in the Midwest, Swain welcomed the opportunity to work with the University of Nebraska.

Former Husker Adrian Fiala provides color for football broadcasts. Fiala played football (linebacker) and baseball (catcher) for the Huskers (1967-69). Fiala previously provided color commentary for KFOR radio in Lincoln, working with Ray Scott, Tim Moreland and Dick Perry. Since 1985, he has worked as the analyst for telecasts of the Omaha Royals games on the Nebraska ETV Network and in Omaha, on Cox cable. Former Huskers Terry Connealy and Jerry Tagge are also a part of the football team. Connealy is a statistician and Tagge is a sideline reporter. Mike Elliott serves as technical director.

Jim Rose (of KLIN) and Gary Java (KKAR) are also a part of the network team. Other announcers include KLIN's Gary Sharp, John Baylor, John Bishop and NU Director of Basketball Operations Nick Joos (men's basketball).

18 Huskers Nominated for Academic All-America Honors

Over the years, the University of Nebraska has set the standard for student-athletes, both on the playing field and in the classroom. Along with three national titles in the past four years, the Husker football team leads the nation in producing Academic All-Americans and NCAA Top Eight winners, two of the highest honors a student-athlete can receive. In the 1990s, 12 NU football players have been selected as first-team Academic All-Americans, including 1997 recipients Joel Makovicka and Grant Wistrom. In all, Nebraska's total of 52 football first-team Academic All-Americans leads the nation. In addition, nine of Nebraska's 13 NCAA Top Eight awards have been earned by Husker football players, the most of any college program in the country.

This season, a school-record 18 football players were nominated for the GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. To be considered, student-athletes must be a sophomore or better, have a 3.20 cumulative grade-point average on a 4.0 scale and be a starter or a key reserve.

"The record amount of nominees is a great tribute to the program," said Dennis Leblanc, Associate Athletic Director for Academic Programs and Student Services. "The football team has always had a great tradition of academic success, leading the Big 12 in academic all-conference players in each of the past two seasons, and it is something the coaching staff and players take great pride in."

The 1998 selections are led by Makovicka and senior rush end Chad Kelsay. Makovicka, who is looking to become just the 11th Husker football player to earn two first-team awards, has a 3.827 grade-point average in biological studies. A two-year starter, Makovicka has rushed for 1,326 yards in his career and holds the school record for touchdowns by a fullback with 13.

Kelsay, who was a second-team selection last season, will look to join fellow rush ends Trev Alberts (1993) and Wistrom (1996-97) as first-team Academic All-Americans. On and off the field, Kelsay, who has a 3.626 GPA in finance, has produced big numbers as he is among the team leaders in tackles, sacks, quarterback hurries and pass breakups this season. Kelsay is joined by fellow rush ends Travis Toline and Kyle Vanden Bosch. Toline, who received his degree last May and is pursuing a master's degree in mechanical engineering, has a 3.637 GPA, while Vanden Bosch is a general studies major with a 3.543 grade-point average.

Sam linebacker Brian Shaw and junior rover Mike Brown are the Huskers' final two defensive nominees. A two-year starter, Shaw maintains a perfect 4.0 GPA in animal science and is among NU's leading tacklers with 24 stops this season. Brown, who has a 3.225 in business administration, led the Huskers with 77 stops last season and is second on the squad with 46 tackles in 1998.

Offensively, the nominees include quarterback Monte Christo, fullback Billy Legate, offensive linemen James Sherman, Ben Gessford, Adam Julch and Brandt Wade, split end Matt Davison, wingbacks Lance Brown and Sean Applegate and tight end T.J. Debates.

A biological sciences major, Christo has a 3.681 GPA and has played an important role leading the Huskers to victories over California and UAB in a reserve role. Legate, who is one of the Huskers' top special teams performers, is a pre-education major with a 3.421 GPA.

Sherman, Gessford and Julch are a trio of first-year starters who have helped the Huskers to top 15 rankings in rushing and scoring offense. Sherman has a 3.236 GPA in criminal justice, Gessford maintains a 3.548 in psychology and Julch is a math major with a 3.268 grade-point average. Senior Brandt Wade, who has a 3.482 GPA in biological science, was a member of the Huskers' PAT and field goal units before suffering a knee injury against Oklahoma State.

Senior wingback Lance Brown graduated last December and is pursuing his master's degree in business management and has a 3.76 GPA. A two-year starter, Brown has not played since the first game because of a broken foot, but could return this week. A sophomore general studies major with a 3.66 GPA, Davison leads the Huskers in catches with 25 and had a school-record 167 receiving yards against Texas A&M. A fisheries and wildlife major, Debates, a fisheries and wildlife major with a 3.649 grade-point average, has been the Huskers' second tight end and has started three games, while Applegate, a pre-education major with a 3.317 GPA, has appeared in all seven games as a reserve wingback.

Senior place-kicker Kris Brown and senior punter Bill Lafleur round out this year's nominees. The school record holder for most career points, Brown owns a 3.446 GPA in social sciences, while Lafleur, who is among the national leaders in punting, is a history major with a 3.515 GPA.

Cheatham Copes With Injuries, Looks to Future

By Shane Ury

On Nov. 8, 1997, The Nebraska Cornhuskers had their backs to the wall. Trailing 38-31 in Columbia, Mo., 67 yards stood between the Huskers and any hopes of a national championship and an undefeated season. With 1:02 remaining in regulation, Kenny Cheatham was the man.

On the first play of the drive, NU quarterback Scott Frost hit Cheatham for 27 yards down the sideline. Three plays later, Frost found Cheatham again for seven yards. Down to Missouri's 19, facing third and two, Frost again hit Cheatham on the sideline, this time for seven yards. Nebraska was now on the Missouri 12-yard line. The stage was set for NU's miraculous finish, as split end Matt Davison snagged a ball that deflected off the foot of Shevin Wiggins, tying the score at 38. The game was sent to overtime where NU would escape, 45-38.

Cheatham had three catches on the drive, totaling 42 yards. He finished the game with a career-high five receptions for 54 yards. But Cheatham doesn't bask in the glory of one drive.

"People tell me, 'that game really showed that you can catch the ball' or 'you can really do this or that,'" Cheatham said. "To me it was nothing. It was playing. It was routine. People are going to say what they want, but I expect to do that every game."

He finished last season tied for the team lead in receptions with 14, helping NU win its third national title in four seasons. Since his arrival in the fall of 1994, Nebraska has compiled a record of 55-3. The Huskers have seen their fair share of winning over the past five seasons, but Cheatham's successful career at Nebraska has not been easy.

Coming out of South Mountain High School five years ago, Cheatham was not only weighing his options on which college to attend, but also which sport to play. Pac-10, Big Eight and SEC schools had all contacted Cheatham about playing football. But he had also been recruited by schools such as Kansas, UCLA and Arizona to play basketball. There's more. Cheatham had also run the nation's second-fastest 200-meter dash on the prep level, attracting offers from the nation's best track and field institutions.

Cheatham admits that basketball was his first love, but after evaluating long term goals, he felt football presented the best option.

"I wanted to choose what would be better for me in the long run," Cheatham said. "Professionally, I thought about all the circumstances I was in, being my size and playing my position, it was kind of the new thing."

Cheatham didn't come to the conclusion easily, but once his mind was set on football, influence from his best friend nearly kept him away from the Cornhusker state. Terry Fair, a teammate of Cheatham's since their days of Pop Warner football, had committed to the University of Tennessee and wanted Cheatham to follow suit. But a miscommunication in the recruiting process shut off the possibility of Cheatham playing for the Volunteers.

"They were supposed to send me on a trip for a visit twice, but they never sent the plane tickets," explained Cheatham. "I felt they did me bad. After that I really didn't want to go there. (Terry) was upset. He really wanted me there, and I'm sure we would have had fun playing together."

It wasn't until July of 1994, with less than a month before the start of fall camp, that Cheatham made a decision to sign a letter of intent with Nebraska. It wasn't an easy one.

"I thought about it for a long time," Cheatham said. "It was so much pressure, leaving home, but I wanted to do what would be the best for me."

Regardless of NU's option style offense, tailored to power football, Cheatham, one of the country's most highly recruited wide receivers, saw himself fitting in with the Huskers.

"I figured with my size and style of football, and seeing a lot of eight-man fronts and one-on-one coverage, I should be able to get the ball and do things out there one on one."

When Cheatham arrived in the fall of 1994 he expected to contribute to the team immediately. But, the coaches, who were well aware of his talent, opted to redshirt Cheatham while he learned the blocking schemes needed to be an NU receiver.

Redshirting proved hard for Cheatham. But following his freshman season he continued to experience frustration. Since his playing days began in the fall of 1995, he has had to endure a series of nagging injuries.

During his redshirt freshman season, he separated his right shoulder in the sixth game of the season, missing the remainder of the year.

In 1996 he battled hamstring injuries throughout the fall, but still caught seven passes for 105 yards, including a 30-yard touchdown reception in the season opener versus Michigan State. He also returned a kickoff 85 yards during NU's 73-14 rout of Oklahoma.

More injuries followed last year. He sat out the first game of the season against Akron, missed game seven at Kansas and didn't play in the Big 12 Championship game, dealing with an ankle sprain and a pulled quad muscle.

This season hasn't been easier. A pulled hamstring kept him out of the Cal game for all but 10 plays. He was back two weeks later for the Washington game, but lightning struck again when Cheatham separated his left shoulder versus Oklahoma State. Cheatham wasn't available in NU's loss to Texas A&M, while he sat out the Kansas game. Cheatham is expected to return for today's matchup with Missouri. However, this year's trials with injury have prompted him to keep a positive outlook on the season. Before the Oklahoma State game, Cheatham had a then team-high 10 receptions for 88 yards.

But Cheatham refuses to dwell on any misfortunes that have been dealt to him.

"It's frustrating because I feel I let my teammates down by being hurt and unintentionally," Cheatham said. "But just the fact that I am hurt and not able to help them. Right now I just want to be back, get healthy and do everything I can to help my team. I still expect to come back and have a big year."

After playing in 30 games over his career, Cheatham has caught 35 passes, tying him for 38th all-time at Nebraska.

In the Orange Bowl last season, Cheatham got the rare opportunity to talk with his best friend. In fact, the two met as opponents for the first time. Terry Fair, a star in the defensive backfield for Tennessee, lined up across from Cheatham.

"We are like brothers," Cheatham said. "We lined up a fair amount of the time against each other. He was talking a little smack at the beginning of the game, but it was all out of fun."

It was the last game in Fair's collegiate career. Last April, he was taken in the first round of the NFL draft by the Detroit Lions. But soon, Cheatham hopes that he will be seeing more of Fair.

Next season Cheatham hopes to join his friend playing football on Sundays. A prototype receiver for the NFL at 6-4, 210, with speed (4.56 in the 40-yard dash) and a 37.5 inch vertical leap, Cheatham is sure to impress scouts around the league.

If Cheatham's dream of playing in the NFL comes true, his best friend might get a shot to avenge Tennessee's loss to Nebraska in the 1998 Orange Bowl.

"Whenever he is on TV, everything in the house has to cease," says Cheatham. "I look forward to the chance of playing against him again."

While the NFL can wait, Cheatham is anxious to return to the Huskers lineup as they attempt to win the Big 12 Championship and make a possible return to the Fiesta Bowl and his home state of Arizona.

"I am going to do what I can," Cheatham said. "If I am injury free, I am going to do what I can when I am in there playing. If I am injured, I am going to do everything I can within the limit of my injury."

Senior split end Kenny Cheatham has 10 catches for 88 yards this season.

NCAA Rules and Regulations

Your support of Nebraska athletics is very much appreciated. However, there are restrictions regarding your involvement with student-athletes. Help Nebraska assure compliance with NCAA rules and regulations by taking a few moments to read this information. The eligibility of Nebraska student-athletes and reputation of the department and university depend greatly upon your cooperation.

Winning Tradition

Alumni, boosters, and friends of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln are proud of the success that the Huskers obtain each year in both academic accomplishments and athletic achievements. Our rich tradition is a result of the tremendous work ethic and commitment by our coaches, student-athletes, and athletic department support staff members. Winning is important at Nebraska, but winning the right way by following the rules that govern the recruitment and treatment of student-athletes is a must.

As a member of the Big 12 Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the University of Nebraska is responsible for insuring that its coaches, student-athletes, faculty and staff, boosters, alumni, and friends abide with conference and NCAA regulations. The purpose of this information is to inform you of a few of the restrictions that will affect your involvement with the athletic department, prospective student-athletes, and the enrolled student-athlete. This is not a comprehensive list of all rules and regulations. We ask that you contact the athletic department if questions or concerns arise which may impact the eligibility of a student-athlete.

Key Definition--NCAA Bylaw 13.02.12

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska Representative if you:

- * Are a present or past member of an NU booster club
- * Have made financial contributions in any manner toward the athletic department
- * Are, or have been assisting with the recruitment of student-athletes
- * Are, or have been providing benefits to enrolled student-athletes or their family members
- * Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the NU athletics program

Limitations of a Representative—NCAA Bylaw 13.01.5.1

In Division I, representatives of an institution's athletics interests are prohibited from making in-person, recruiting contact with prospective student-athletes on or off the University of Nebraska campus. A representative may not write or telephone a prospect, his parents, legal guardians, or relatives. In addition, a representative may not contact a prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate a prospect.

Permissible Exceptions

1. A representative may have contact with a prospect regarding summer employment opportunities once the prospect has signed a National Letter of Intent to attend the University of Nebraska. Please let us know that you are making such contacts.

2. A representative may have a telephone conversation with a prospect only if the prospect initiates the call. Such a call may not be prearranged by an institutional staff member and the conversation should not include any recruiting contact. Please refer any questions regarding the University of Nebraska athletic program to our athletic department.

3. A representative may attend high school and community college events on his own initiative to observe a prospect during competition.

However, contact with the prospect and family members is not permissible. If they approach you, please refer them to the Nebraska Athletic Department.

Extra Benefit Rule--Bylaw 16.02.3

The majority of NCAA rule infractions involving athletics representatives occur as a result of providing an enrolled student-athlete with an extra benefit. An extra benefit, as defined by the NCAA, is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or a representative of the institution's athletics interests to provide a student athlete or his relatives and friends a benefit not expressly authorized by the NCAA legislation.

An athletic representative is prohibited from providing a student-athlete, with, but not limited to cash, clothing, transportation, housing, gifts, and entertainment. Furthermore, providing loans, promising post-graduate financial aid, and guaranteeing a student-athlete or his relatives employment opportunities as a form of inducement to enroll at the University of Nebraska is strictly prohibited.

Permissible Exceptions

1. A representative may provide a home-cooked meal in your home for special occasions. You may also provide local reasonable transportation to your home for the student-athlete as long as the meal is in your home.
2. A representative may provide summer vacation and academic year employment opportunities for student athletes. Remember that these opportunities may not be used during the recruiting process of a student athlete in an effort to influence their decision to attend the University of Nebraska.

Further Information

We encourage you to contact the University of Nebraska Athletic Department with any questions or concerns regarding NCAA rules and regulations that pertain to recruits or enrolled student-athletes. Issues may be directed to:

Al Papik
Senior Associate Athletic Director/
Compliance Coordinator
203 South Stadium
Lincoln, NE 68588-0219

Thank you for your support of Nebraska athletics. We ask for your continued interest and cooperation in abiding by the rules and guidelines set forth to insure the well being and eligibility of our student-athletes. Help us maintain the highest standard of ethical excellence as we strive for continued performance excellence.

Enjoy another year of Nebraska athletics....Husker Style!

Hey, Wildcats. You've got it all this year. A great team. The Huskers late in the season. It's perfect. You'll probably come within two touchdowns of Nebraska this time. As Joe Theismann once said, "Nobody in football should be called a genius. A genius is a guy like Norman Einstein." Steve Spurrier, Florida coach, was telling Gator fans that a fire in the Auburn football dorm destroyed 20 books. "But the real tragedy was that 15 hadn't been colored yet."

The Nebraska soccer team will shoot for its third consecutive top 10 national finish in 1998, after a final No. 7 national ranking in 1997 and No. 6 ranking in 1996.

The Huskers' hopes for their first trip to the NCAA semifinals were dealt a blow on July 19 with the loss of junior midfielder Jenny Benson with a torn anterior cruciate ligament in her right knee. Along with Benson, who was a U.S. Under-20 National Team member, senior defender Heather Brown and freshman defender Karla Ledford also may miss the season with knee injuries. Junior All-America forward Lindsay Eddleman will miss the start of the season after breaking the fifth metatarsal bone in her left foot just two days before Benson suffered her knee injury. Eddleman could return to the Husker lineup by late-September.

Despite the injuries, Coach John Walker remains optimistic about the Huskers' chances to make their third consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Kim Engesser returns after leading the nation with 26 goals last season. The senior forward finished with a Husker single-season record 55 points in 1997. Senior midfielders Becky Hogan and Kristen Gay will provide consistency and experience in their fourth seasons as starters. Junior Amy Walsh, who was the Huskers' fifth-leading point-scorer in 1997, could be expected to fill the scoring void left by the graduation of All-America midfielder Kari Uppinghouse.

Third-team All-America defender Sharolta Nonen will lead the Husker defense, along with Isabelle Morneau and Christine Gluck. Sophomore goalkeepers Karina LeBlanc and Jackie Erdkamp will see their first starting action, replacing graduated All-American Rebecca Hornbacher. Sandy Smith, Lauren Tatum and Julie Greco will challenge for starting duties and provide depth along with a talented freshman class that includes high school All-Americans Kelly Rheem and Meghan Anderson, Canadian National Team member Shannon Tanaka, Arizona all-stater Najah Williams, Nebraska all-stater Becky Preston and California prep star Danica Carey.

Home matches in bold at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

For the first time since the 1994-95 season, Nebraska enters the wrestling season without the luxury of at least one returning All-American.

The Huskers concluded that season with five All-Americans, a national champion and a sixth-place team finish at the NCAA Championships. Nebraska Coach Tim Neumann is hoping for similar production this season.

Despite the lack of All-Americans on the Husker roster, Nebraska's cupboard is far from bare. The Huskers will be led by a talented group of young and hungry wrestlers led by 1998 Big 12 Champion Brad Vering, who became only the third Husker to win a conference title as a freshman. After finishing with a 33-9 record in 1997-98, Vering will be expected to challenge for All-America honors and a national title as a sophomore.

The Huskers should also be strong at heavyweight with the return of J.R. Plienis. The sophomore from Edgemere, Md., finished with a 31-13 record last season to join Vering in becoming the first freshman duo in Husker history to win 30 matches in the same season.

Junior Paul Gomez (125) will contend for All-America honors after posting a 19-13 mark in his first season as a Husker. Gomez was the 1996 NJCAA champion at Lassen Community College. Senior Jose DeAnda (141) could also push for national honors.

Senior Scott Munson (197) could also contend for conference and All-America honors after backing up three-time All-American Ryan Tobin. Munson may be pushed by true freshman Justin Ruiz (197), one of the nation's top recruits.

Sophomores Todd Beckerman and Charles McTorry, who were NCAA qualifiers in 1997, will look to return to nationals after redshirting last season. Redshirt freshmen Joe and Josh Henson, Bryan Snyder and Tony Denke will battle to fill spots in the Husker lineup at the middle weights.

1999 Husker Men's Gymnastics

Head Coach: Francis Allen (30th season)
1998 Record: 16-6
Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 6/1

With six returning letterwinners, including a three-time NCAA champion and two other All-Americans, the Nebraska men's gymnastics team will look for its NCAA record ninth national title in 1999.

The Huskers will be led by all-arounders Derek Leiter and Jason Hardabura, and by three-time NCAA champion Marshall Nelson.

Leiter earned All-America honors in the all-around, as he placed fourth at the NCAA Championships with a score of 57.075, one of six scores above 57 during the 1998 season. The junior from Lincoln was ranked first in the nation on vault for much of the season and was nationally ranked in five events last season. Leiter also qualified for the U.S. Championships.

Hardabura, a sophomore, will look to build on his freshman year in which he finished ninth at the NCAA Championships. His finish was the highest among all freshmen in 1998. During the season, Hardabura scored a 56 or higher in each of his last eight all-around performances, including a 57.975, the highest score by a freshman in school history. Hardabura, a former member of the Canadian National Team, won the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation floor exercise title and scored a 9.55 or higher in each of the six events last year.

One of the finest individual event performers in school history, Nelson has earned six All-America honors, on four different events, during his three-year career, winning back-to-back NCAA parallel bars titles in 1997 and 1998. The Greeley, Colo., native is one of the favorites for the Nissen Award, presented to the top senior gymnast in the nation. In 1998, Nelson was nationally ranked in four events and was the 1998 MPSF Gymnast of the Year.

Senior Jim Koziol and juniors Blake Bukacek and Manuel Galarza gives three-time NCAA Coach-of-the-Year Francis Allen great optimism heading into the season. Koziol made a tremendous return after missing the 1997 season, placing fourth in the still rings to earn his first All-America award. Koziol, a three-year letterwinner from Omaha, will also provide depth on other events, including floor exercise, where he was an NCAA qualifier last year, and pommel horse.

Bukacek, a two-time NCAA qualifier on the horizontal bar, set personal bests on four of his five events, including a 9.70 on the horizontal bar and a 9.70 on pommel horse. A Lincoln

High graduate, Bukacek has been a key contributor on five events for the past two seasons. Galarza, who transferred from Syracuse just before the 1998 season, provided depth on still rings and parallel bars. The junior had a season-high score of 9.575 at the MPSF Championships and made great strides during the second half of the season.

The Husker lineup will be bolstered by the addition of freshman Martin Fournier, a member of the Canadian National Team for the past two seasons. He will be expected to contribute to the Huskers all-around lineup.

The Huskers will have the home court advantage by playing host to the NCAA Championships April 22-24 at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. NU has placed either first or second every time the Huskers have hosted the NCAAs, including its eighth NCAA title in 1994.

1999 Husker Women's Gymnastics

Head Coach: Dan Kendig (sixth season)
1998 Record: 14-4; Big 12 Champions
Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 10/0

After winning its fifth consecutive conference title in 1998, the Nebraska women's gymnastics team brings back the entire squad for a run at a national title this season.

The Huskers return all 10 letterwinners from last season and regain the services of junior Amie Dillman in their quest to return to nationals after not qualifying last spring. Dillman, one of the Huskers' top vaulters and floor exercise performers two seasons ago, should return to the floor exercise lineup this season after missing all of 1998 with knee injuries.

Nebraska will look to All-Americans Heather Brink and Misty Oxford and one of the deepest senior classes in recent memory to provide leadership. Brink became the first NU female gymnast to win an all-around title at regionals, scoring a 39.475 to qualify for the NCAA Championships. A Lincoln native, Brink tied three school records at the Big 12 Championships, including all-around score (39.575), vault (9.95) and uneven bars (9.95). Brink, a three-time All-American, was nationally ranked on uneven bars, vault and in the all-around in 1998.

A senior, Oxford was the Big 12 runner-up in the all-around and the conference champion on floor exercise. She was also nationally ranked in the all-around and on floor exercise. In 1997, the Kelso, Wash., native earned All-America honors in three events and set school records on vault and on floor exercise. Both Oxford and Brink set career bests in the all-around last season in helping NU post a 14-4 mark.

Seniors Courtney Brown, Laurie McLaughlin and Jess Swift will be counted on heavily, as NU looks for its sixth straight conference title. An All-Big 12 selection, Brown is one of NU's top performers on balance beam and floor exercise, setting career highs on both events last season. McLaughlin, an All-Big 12 honoree in 1997, has been one of NU's most consistent performers on both the balance beam and the uneven bars for the past three seasons. After primarily playing a reserve role during her first two seasons, Swift earned a starting spot in the vault, uneven bars and floor exercise lineup, setting career highs in all three events in 1998. On floor exercise, Swift scored a career best of 9.85 at the Midwest Regional.

Juniors Nicole Wilkinson and Laura Ohlendorf and sophomore Amy Ringo give Coach Dan Kendig a variety of options in his lineup. Wilkinson earned All-Big 12 honors in three individual events and in the all-around last season and took first in the all-around at the 1998 Masters Classic. Ohlendorf had been hampered for much of the past two seasons, but is expected to be healthy. Ohlendorf will look to earn spots in the uneven bars, balance beam and floor exercise lineups. After a slow start, Ringo was one of NU's top gymnasts by the end of the season, posting the team's best balance beam score (9.825) at regionals, while setting a personal best of 9.75 on vault.

Juniors Alisha and Arica Lamb and sophomores Kathy Ligon and Stacie Sizer will provide depth, while incoming freshmen Bree Dority and Laura Goss give Kendig tremendous optimism heading into the fall.

1998 Husker Men's Cross Country

Coach: Jay Dirksen (16th season)

1997 Big 12 Finish: fourth

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 7/2

It took an entire season for the 1997 Nebraska men's cross country team to prove its worth to the rest of the nation. It was on the eve of the race, in which NU finished 11th at the NCAA Championships, that people wondered how Nebraska received an invitation to run. This year could pose a similar challenge with more skeptics, as NU continues to assemble one of the best schedules in the nation, believing that competing with the best only can make one better.

"We kind of surprised some people last year," Nebraska Head Coach Jay Dirksen said. "This year there is going to be a lot of people that will doubt our team, but I think we have the chance to be fairly successful."

Gone from last year's squad are the No. 1 and No. 3 runners, All-American Cleophas Boor and captain Aaron Johnson. Boor, a two-time All-American, left Nebraska as one of the most prolific runners in school history. Replacing two runners among the top five won't be easy, but NU has significant talent returning.

Back from last season's 11th-place team are All-American Jeroen Broekzitter, three-time letterwinner Lou Petricea and sophomore Marcus Witter. Two other familiar faces are also expected to return to the lineup. Philip Maiyo and Jim Vance (both among the teams' top five runners in 1996) are coming off redshirt seasons.

As usual, the schedule is loaded with competition. It begins Sept. 19 at Lincoln's own Pioneers Park when NU plays host to an expanded field, included several Big 12 schools, at the Woody Greeno Invitational. The following week NU will be in Minneapolis, Minn., for one of the toughest competitions in the nation, the Roy Griak Invitational. On Oct. 10, the Huskers will travel to Lawrence, Kan., the site of the 1998 NCAA Championships, to compete in the Pre-NCAA Invitational, which will feature the top teams from around the country and should boast a field second only to the NCAA meet. Two weeks later, NU will be in Eugene, Ore., for the Oregon Invitational, which will introduce the Huskers to some of the best competition in the Pacific-10 Conference.

"Our schedule was really tough last year and that's what helped us qualify for nationals," Dirksen said. "Competing against the best only makes you better and our guys look forward to that challenge."

On Oct. 31, NU will play host to the third Big 12 Conference Championships. The Big 12, perennially one of the toughest conferences in the nation, qualified four teams for the NCAA Championships last season, all of which finished among the top 15, including third-place Colorado. According to Dirksen, Colorado returns a strong team and enters as the favorite, while Iowa State, Oklahoma State and Missouri each appear to have a number of talented runners.

On Nov. 14, NU will run in what will be the most important meet of the season, the 1998 NCAA Midwest Regional, held in Wichita, Kan. The top two finishers from eight regions around the country automatically qualify for the NCAA Championships. In addition, six at-large bids are given, based on performances throughout the season. Last year, NU finished third at the Midwest Regional meet, but earned an at-large bid. Iowa State, the fourth-place team from the Midwest Region was also granted a berth. The region is headed this year by strong teams from Iowa State, Minnesota and Missouri, keeping NU's hands full in its attempt to qualify for nationals for the third consecutive season.

1998 Husker Women's Cross Country

Coach: Jay Dirksen (16th season)

1997 Big 12 Finish: second

Letterwinners Returning/Lost: 7/1

Nebraska Head Coach Jay Dirksen describes the upcoming cross country season as "optimistic" when considering his women's team. The engineer of the program for the past 15 years has good reason to describe the team in such a manner, as eight runners return with previous NCAA Championships experience, including NU's top five runners from the second-place 1997 NCAA Midwest Regional team.

Nebraska has qualified for the NCAA Championships, as a team, in six of the past seven seasons, finishing no lower than 20th and placing 12th in 1991. NU's best days at the national meet were a pair of third-place finishes in 1988 and 1989. Coach Dirksen said this team has the potential to once again crack the top 15.

"I think that our team knows what it is up against," Dirksen said. "Potentially, we have an opportunity to be a lot better than we were last season."

Among the eight letterwinners returning, are Amy Wiseman, Jaime Pauli, Kate Centerwall, Melinda Mohr, Melissa Wilson and Amie Finkner, all of whom have finished in the top 30 at a regional contest. Over the past two seasons, NU has garnered a reputation for running as a team, and Coach Dirksen predicts there could be a lot of trading places among the top seven runners.

The Huskers will have several opportunities to test their talent, as well as their depth, as an all-star schedule awaits in the fall. Competition begins on Sept. 19, when NU plays host to the Woody Greeno Invitational. Traditionally a gathering for the smaller non-university schools around the area, the Woody Greeno has attracted a host of Big 12 teams, as they prepare for the Big 12 Championships in Lincoln on Oct. 31.

The week following the Woody Greeno, NU makes their annual trip to Minneapolis, Minn., for the Roy Griak Invite, a meet which annually draws the top competition in the country. Two weeks later, Nebraska heads to Lawrence, Kan., the site of the 1998 NCAA Championships, to run in the Pre-NCAA Invitational, which is expected to boast the toughest field of the season aside from the NCAA meet. On Oct. 17, NU will be in Eugene, Ore., for the Oregon Invitational, which will provide competition from prime Pacific-10 opponents.

"We are going to find every meet to be a challenge," Dirksen said. "How they meet that challenge is going to determine how good they are."

NU will run again in Lincoln when the entire Big 12 Conference arrives for the Big 12 Championships. The conference annually proves itself to be one of the toughest nationally, as four teams were represented last year at the NCAA Championships, including Colorado, which placed third. Dirksen expects the Buffaloes, the defending Big 12 champions, to be the favorite with Nebraska, Baylor and Missouri all vying for the upset.

On Nov. 14, the Huskers will be in Wichita, Kan., for the Midwest Regional meet where they must finish among the top two teams for an automatic berth to the NCAA meet. If they fail to place among the top two, they still stand a chance at qualifying with an at-large bid. Dirksen forecasts NU to be one of the favorites in the regional, along with Minnesota, Missouri and Wichita State.

With eight letterwinners back and the addition of four newcomers, NU will have sufficient firepower to attack the schedule.

1998 Husker Men's and Women's Cross Country Schedule:

Sept. 5-- at Bearcat Distance Classic; Sept. 19--Woody Greeno/Nebraska Invitational; Sept. 26--at Roy Griak Invitational; Oct. 10--at Pre NCAA Invitational; Oct. 17--at Oregon Invitational; Oct. 17--at Tiger Invitational; Oct. 31--Big 12 Championships; Nov. 14--at NCAA District 5 Championships; Nov. 23--at NCAA Championships

1970 National Champions — (11-0-1)

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. A quarter of a century later, Murtaugh's mark still stands.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, which, in the case of the 1970 season, was not without some justification. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas; they deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which the team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later.

Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, however slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army, 28-0, the next week, to begin what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

The Cornhuskers rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker I-back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma, 28-21, at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas, 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State, 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from 1 yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP national champion because it had defeated top-ranked Texas. But Nebraska was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Husker quarterback Jerry Tagge stretches the ball over the goal line for the winning touchdown in the Orange Bowl victory over Louisiana State.

Nebraska also received a national championship endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed the Cornhuskers No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Co-captains Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss joined Devaney alongside Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

If you think losing more hair is inevitable,
think again.

© 1998 Merck & Co., Inc. All rights reserved. 982308(4)(801)-PRP

Introducing the first and only pill clinically proven to treat hair loss in men.

PROPECIA is a medical breakthrough – the first pill that effectively treats male pattern hair loss on the vertex (at top of head) and anterior mid-scalp area.

By all measures, the clinical results of PROPECIA in men are impressive:*

- 83% maintained their hair based on hair count (vs. 28% with placebo).
- 66% had visible regrowth as rated by independent dermatologists (vs. 7% with placebo).
- 80% were rated as improved by clinical doctors (vs. 47% with placebo).
- Most men reported an increase in the amount of hair, a decrease in hair loss, and improvement in appearance.

*Based on vertex studies at 24 months of men 18 to 41 with mild to moderate hair loss.

Scientists have recently discovered that men with male pattern hair loss have an increased level of DHT in their scalps. PROPECIA blocks the formation of DHT and, in this way, appears to interrupt a key factor in the development of inherited male pattern hair loss in men. Importantly, PROPECIA helps grow natural hair – not just peach fuzz – and is as convenient to take as a vitamin: one pill a day.

Only a doctor can determine if PROPECIA is right for you. PROPECIA is for men only. Further, women who are or may potentially be pregnant must not use PROPECIA and should not handle crushed or broken tablets because of the risk of a specific kind of birth defect. (See accompanying Patient Information for details.) PROPECIA tablets are coated and will prevent contact with the active ingredient during normal handling.

You may need to take PROPECIA daily for three months or more to see visible results. PROPECIA may not regrow all your hair. And if you stop using this product, you will gradually lose the hair you have gained. There is not sufficient evidence that PROPECIA works for recession at the temporal areas. If you haven't seen results after 12 months of using PROPECIA, further treatment is unlikely to be of benefit.

Like all prescription products, PROPECIA may cause side effects. A very small number of men experienced certain side effects, such as: less desire for sex, difficulty in achieving an erection, and a decrease in the amount of semen. Each of these side effects occurred in less than 2% of men. These side effects were reversible and went away in men who stopped taking PROPECIA. They also disappeared in most men (58%) who continued taking PROPECIA.

So start talking to your doctor. And stop thinking further hair loss is inevitable.

Patient Information about PROPECIA®

(Pro-pee-sha)

Generic name: finasteride
(fin-AS-tur-eyed)

PROPECIA is for use by MEN ONLY.

Please read this leaflet before you start taking PROPECIA. Also, read the information included with PROPECIA each time you renew your prescription, just in case anything has changed. Remember, this leaflet does not take the place of careful discussions with your doctor. You and your doctor should discuss PROPECIA when you start taking your medication and at regular checkups.

What is PROPECIA used for?

PROPECIA is used for the treatment of male pattern hair loss on the vertex and the anterior mid-scalp area.

PROPECIA is for use by MEN ONLY and should NOT be used by women or children.

What is male pattern hair loss?

Male pattern hair loss is a common condition in which men experience thinning of the hair on the scalp. Often, this results in a receding hairline and/or balding on the top of the head. These changes typically begin gradually in men in their 20s.

Doctors believe male pattern hair loss is due to heredity and is dependent on hormonal effects. Doctors refer to this type of hair loss as androgenetic alopecia.

Results of clinical studies:

For 12 months, doctors studied over 1800 men aged 18 to 41 with mild to moderate amounts of ongoing hair loss. All men, whether receiving PROPECIA or placebo (a pill containing no medication) were given a medicated shampoo (Neutrogena T/Gel™ Shampoo). Of these men, approximately 1200 with hair loss at the top of the head were studied for an additional 12 months. In general, men who took PROPECIA maintained or increased the number of visible scalp hairs and noticed improvement in their hair in the first year, with the effect maintained in the second year. Hair counts in men who did not take PROPECIA continued to decrease.

In one study, patients were questioned on the growth of body hair. PROPECIA did not appear to affect hair in places other than the scalp.

Will PROPECIA work for me?

For most men, PROPECIA increases the number of scalp hairs, helping to fill in thin or balding areas of the scalp. Men taking PROPECIA noted a slowing of hair loss during two years of use. Although results will vary, generally you will not be able to grow back all of the hair you have lost. There is not sufficient evidence that PROPECIA works in the treatment of receding hairline in the temporal area on both sides of the head.

Male pattern hair loss occurs gradually over time. On average, healthy hair grows only about half an inch each month. Therefore, it will take time to see any effect.

You may need to take PROPECIA daily for three months or more before you see a benefit from taking PROPECIA. PROPECIA can only work over the long term if you continue taking it. If the drug has not worked for you in twelve months, further treatment is unlikely to be of benefit. If you stop taking PROPECIA, you will likely lose the hair you have gained within 12 months of stopping treatment. You should discuss this with your doctor.

How should I take PROPECIA?

Follow your doctor's instructions.

- Take one tablet by mouth each day.
- You may take PROPECIA with or without food.
- If you forget to take PROPECIA, do not take an extra tablet. Just take the next tablet as usual.

PROPECIA will not work faster or better if you take it more than once a day.

Who should NOT take PROPECIA?

- PROPECIA is for the treatment of male pattern hair loss in MEN ONLY and should not be taken by women or children.
- Anyone allergic to any of the ingredients.

A warning about PROPECIA and pregnancy.

- Women who are or may potentially be pregnant:
 - must not use PROPECIA
 - should not handle crushed or broken tablets of PROPECIA.

If a woman who is pregnant with a male baby absorbs the active ingredient in PROPECIA, either by swallowing or through the skin, it may cause abnormalities of a male baby's sex organs. If a woman who is pregnant comes into contact with the active ingredient in PROPECIA, a doctor should be consulted. PROPECIA tablets are coated and will prevent contact with the active ingredient during normal handling, provided that the tablets are not broken or crushed.

What are the possible side effects of PROPECIA?

Like all prescription products, PROPECIA may cause side effects. In clinical studies, side effects from PROPECIA were uncommon and did not affect most men. A small number of men experienced certain sexual side effects. These men reported one or more of the following: less desire for sex; difficulty in achieving an erection; and, a decrease in the amount of semen. Each of these side effects occurred in less than 2% of men. These side effects went away in men who stopped taking PROPECIA. They also disappeared in most men who continued taking PROPECIA.

The active ingredient in PROPECIA is also used by older men at a five-times higher dose to treat enlargement of the prostate. Some of these men reported other side effects, including problems with ejaculation, breast swelling and/or tenderness and allergic reactions such as lip swelling and rash. In clinical studies with PROPECIA, these side effects occurred as often in men taking placebo as in those taking PROPECIA.

Tell your doctor promptly about these or any other unusual effects.

- PROPECIA can affect a blood test called PSA (Prostate-Specific Antigen) for the screening of prostate cancer. If you have a PSA test done, you should tell your doctor that you are taking PROPECIA.

Storage and handling.

Keep PROPECIA in the original container and keep the container closed. Store it in a dry place at room temperature. PROPECIA tablets are coated and will prevent contact with the active ingredient during normal handling, provided that the tablets are not broken or crushed.

Do not give your PROPECIA tablets to anyone else. It has been prescribed only for you. Keep PROPECIA and all medications out of the reach of children.

THIS LEAFLET PROVIDES A SUMMARY OF INFORMATION ABOUT PROPECIA. IF AFTER READING THIS LEAFLET YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS OR ARE NOT SURE ABOUT ANYTHING, ASK YOUR DOCTOR.

1971 National Champions — (13-0)

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1-ranked Cornhuskers played No. 2-ranked Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of the issue (Nov. 22, 1971) of Sports Illustrated published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's 2-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game. But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-8, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Cornhusker middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a fourth-down, Jack Milden pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn themselves a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. It left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and, most likely, a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards per game on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers—as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9), third in scoring defense (8.2) and fifth in total defense (202.9). The Cornhusker Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners in Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponents' fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press pre-season rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense. "As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971. Rodgers made a name for himself as a junior in 1971 before winning the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

1994 National Champions — (13-0)

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot to the drama of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards (14th on Nebraska's all-time, single-season list) and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan in a game that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant, a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense, and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic

All-Big Eight who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the second-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight first team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were the Husker captains.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

WHEN THINGS ARE AT THEIR WORST, YOU'LL FIND AMERICANS AT THEIR BEST.

Heroes aren't born, they're made. Every day in the National Guard, Americans are going beyond the call — training as citizen-soldiers to be at their best when America needs them the most. Every National Guard mission starts at home where members are your friends, neighbors and co-workers. In your community, they respond to natural disasters and local emergencies. They even play a direct role in helping America's kids stay in school, out of trouble and drug-free.

But the Guard's work at home is only half the story. Since the days of the Colonial minutemen, the National Guard has worked to protect our nation. Today, that tradition continues with the National Guard as a full partner with America's active military forces.

In today's efficient military, the citizen-soldiers and airmen of the National Guard are more important than ever. Just ask one of the Guard members currently in Bosnia, or those who served in Haiti and Desert Storm — chances are some of these members are right in your community. They are the most visible example of how Guard units are woven into our nation's military capability.

Those who volunteer for the National Guard are trained, equipped and tested to be their best. The biggest test, however, is nowhere near the training ground. It's in a world where danger and disaster are ever-present. A world where the men and women of the National Guard are putting their talents on the line every day.

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the remaining 23 teams on the list, which also included the 1972 and 1970 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion—something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21).

After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems. "It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor.

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, broke the Cornhusker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79). He earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman Trophy and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4), and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and outside linebacker Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team all-conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on All-Big Eight first-team offenses by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

When all the ballots were delivered

As the skill level of players has gotten better and better, Heisman voting has gotten tougher and tougher. The Heisman votes of 1978, 1985 and 1997 were razor close, with the runners-up as deserving as the winners.

University of Oklahoma halfback Billy Sims took Heisman Trophy voters by surprise in 1978. Heisman voters were confronted with several candidates, including quarterbacks Chuck Fusina of Penn State and Michigan's Rick Leach.

A Michigan home loss to Michigan State knocked Leach out of the Heisman picture, but Sims and Fusina battled it out to the wire.

The 6-0, 205-pound Sims set a Big Eight record by rushing for 200 yards in three straight games and carried the Sooners to a 9-0 record. Fusina was as prolific for Penn State. During a four-game span, he completed 49 of 78 passes for 830 yards and eight TDs.

Oklahoma's title hopes ended in a 17-14 loss to Nebraska. Sims scored touchdowns from 44 and 30 yards, but his fumble at Nebraska's three sealed the Sooners' loss.

Meanwhile, Fusina kept Penn State perfect and had them ranked No. 1 at 11-0 going into the Sugar Bowl.

Heisman voters had to weigh Fusina's leadership of an undefeated team against Sims, who demonstrated individual excellence on a 10-1 team by rushing for a Big Eight record and nation-leading 1,762 rushing yards.

When all the ballots were delivered, Fusina edged Sims in total first place votes, but Sims won the award finishing with 827 points to Fusina's 750.

In 1985, the choice again was the ground game vs. the aerial game, as Auburn's Bo Jackson, a 6-1, 222 pound running back with sprinter's speed, was challenged by strong-armed Iowa quarterback Chuck Long.

Jackson set the tone early, exploding for 290 yards with scoring runs of 76, 47, 12 and 7 yards. The next week, he gained 205 yards with two TDs.

In Long's first two weeks, he completed 21 of 31 passes for 248 yards and two touchdowns, then threw for 270 yards and five touchdowns.

After leaving the Tennessee game with an injury, Jackson had consecutive games of 240 yards and two touchdowns; 176 yards and scoring runs of 54 and 35 yards; 242 yards and a 76-yard touchdown; and 169 yards and two touchdowns. Sixth-ranked Auburn was 6-1.

Iowa also was climbing the polls, as Long posted big games against conference rivals Michigan State (30 of 39, 380 yards, four touchdowns) Michigan (26 of 39 for 297 yards) and Northwestern, completing 19 of 26 for 399 yards and six touchdowns.

Both struggled in their big games — Jackson against Florida, Long against Ohio State — and though they finished the season with solid performances, neither stepped to the forefront with the Heisman voters.

When all the ballots were delivered,

Jackson edged Long by 45 points (1,509-1,464) in the closest vote in Heisman history.

In 1997, Michigan cornerback Charles Woodson not only battled history (no primarily defensive player had ever captured the award), but also a popular candidate at a choice position in Tennessee quarterback Peyton Manning.

Manning opened the season with two 300 yard passing performances. But against Florida, who he had never beaten, and who many felt he needed to play well against to solidify his holding as the preseason Heisman favorite, Manning's two costly interceptions keyed the Gators' 33-20 win. The door had opened slightly for another Heisman contender.

Woodson spearheaded Michigan as a dominant defender, as an electrifying receiver and as a punt returner. He made several game-turning, highlight-reel plays to cast himself as a serious contender.

Tennessee closed the regular season at 10-1, led by Manning, who posted big games against Georgia (343 yards and four TDs), Southern Miss. (399 yards and four touchdowns) and Kentucky (523 yards and five TDs).

Michigan continued to rise in the polls and Woodson continued to make big plays. He saved the best for last in the season finale against arch-rival Ohio State.

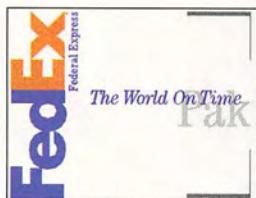

In front of a national television audience, Woodson made a key end zone interception, had a 37-yard reception that set up Michigan's first touchdown and added a 78-yard punt return for a touchdown, as the Wolverines defeated the Buckeyes, 20-14, on their way to the Rose Bowl and a share of the national championship.

When all the ballots were delivered,

Woodson totalled 1,815 points to Manning's 1,543.

Woodson achieved what many felt impossible — a defensive player being named the outstanding college football player in the country.

Great hand-off!

1997 National Champions — (13-0)

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early-morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news. "By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN — the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said — that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN coaches' national champion.

The Cornhuskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches' poll on the strength of their 42-17 victory against No. 3-ranked Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be...I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution.

That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee. "I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Allstate bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches' poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas. Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in early November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons.

Notre Dame won national titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996.

Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense.

Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. His 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which were second in the nation. His yards also ranked second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a

I-back Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl. The victory gave Nebraska its third national title in the 1990s.

deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

Patience Pays Off For Lineman Gessford

By Shamus McKnight

For senior offensive lineman Ben Gessford, the wait was about to pay off.

For four seasons, the 6-2, 290-pound Gessford had toiled in the shadows of his more illustrious teammates, moving from scout team, to seldom-used reserve to top backup. Now it was time for his first start of Husker career, and Gessford was ready to soak in the moment when he walked on the field in the season opener against Louisiana Tech.

"It was everything I expected it to be," Gessford said. "The first time I walked out of the tunnel, it had not sunk in that I was starting. It was a great feeling. You can't really describe it with words."

For many, Gessford's tale from walk-on to starter would be difficult to imagine. From a lightly recruited undersized lineman who had doubts about his ability to compete at the collegiate level, Gessford has become one of the Huskers' most valued linemen, a player who is able to fill in at both guard and tackle spots.

After starting the game at right guard, Gessford is used as the swing tackle, relieving starting tackles Adam Julch and Jason Schwab every third series.

On the season, Gessford has 44 pancake blocks as the Huskers rank fourth nationally, first in the Big 12, in rushing offense (270.4 yards per game) and 13th nationally in scoring offense (37 points per game).

Offensive line coach Dan Young recruited Gessford out of high school and understands Gessford's important role on the squad.

"He is very valuable player for us," Young said. "Because he knows both guard and tackle positions, he can fill in at several positions along the line. Ben is a very smart football player and does not make many mistakes."

According to Young, it takes someone with unique abilities to handle both positions as well as Gessford has.

"It takes a special player to play both guard and tackle," Young said. "First, you have to be very smart because they are two different positions. Second, you have to be a player with good football savvy because of the different blocks and techniques used at those positions. Finally, it takes good footwork because you have to have the ability to block both interior tackles and outside rushers."

Coming out of Lincoln East High School, Gessford was undersized for an offensive lineman, weighing 215 pounds as a junior and weighing only slightly more as a senior. Although he earned honorable mention all-state honors by the Lincoln Journal Star as a senior, Gessford was not sure if he could play for the Huskers.

"I really didn't want to play anywhere but Nebraska, but I didn't really know if I had a shot to play here," Gessford said. "I was not sure if they were going to take a look at me."

Although Gessford had doubts about his ability to play in college, Young and the Husker coaching staff saw Gessford's potential after seeing him play.

"Even though he was light for a linemen, there were a lot of things we liked about him when we saw him play and on film," Young said. "He was very aggressive, and when he blocked, he was very explosive off the ball and stayed with his blocks."

"With his football background and his intelligence, we thought he had a chance to come in and compete down the road for us," Young said.

After redshirting in 1994, Gessford played sparingly in 1995 and 1996, appearing in a total of seven games. "I understood what it took to play and knew it would not be an overnight thing," Gessford said.

While Gessford said it was difficult to wait for his opportunity, he credits his parents for keeping his morale up.

"They have been a tremendous help for me," Gessford said. "Everybody goes through their rough times, and they were always there to encourage and support me."

Another benefit for Gessford was his father, James, who was a standout at Hastings College and played in the World Football League for two seasons in the mid-1970s.

"He had been there and knows what it takes to be successful," Gessford said. "It was good to have someone to talk to who had been in the same situation. It was a tremendous help for me to get through the tough times."

While Gessford waited for his moment to come, he also put in a lot of time in the weight room, bulking up from 250 pounds as a freshman to more than 300 pounds before reducing his current weight of 290.

"At first, I put on a lot of weight because of my eating habits were not good," Gessford said. "The guys in the weight room got me working and helped me turn the fat into muscle. I made sure I put forth the effort and did the things they told me to do so I could have a chance to play."

Last season, Gessford saw his first extensive playing time of his career, appearing in nine regular season games and the Orange Bowl as a reserve guard. On the season, he helped Nebraska to a national title, the Huskers' third in the past four seasons. Gessford had 17 pancakes on the season, including a season-high eight against Baylor.

"My goal last year was to just make the travel squad," Gessford said. "That was a great confidence booster for me. I got to see how the starters got prepared for the away games, and to see how they reacted to different things. Last year helped out a lot."

Now, as a starter and as a Lincoln native, Gessford is well aware of the Huskers' tradition of offensive line excellence.

"It is almost unbelievable just thinking about it," Gessford said. "You look back at all the Outland Trophy winners and all the great players who have played here over the years. Just to know that you are part of the tradition is a tremendous feeling."

Gessford also considers himself fortunate to be at Nebraska during one of the most successful eras in college football history.

"It was one of the best times to be here," Gessford said. "Most people go through their college career and never get a chance at a national title, and I have been here for three in four years."

"I was fortunate to be here for the last couple of years of Coach Tom Osborne and Coach Frank Solich's first year," Gessford said.

A psychology major who will graduate in May, Gessford's hard work paid off last January as the two-time Academic All-Big 12 selection earned a scholarship. A GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America nominee this year, Gessford has a 3.548 GPA.

Husker fans are glad that Gessford's hard work and patience has paid off this season.

Former walk-on Ben Gessford is a GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America nominee with a 3.548 GPA in psychology.

Academics have always been an important part of the student-athlete's career at Nebraska. One of the highest honors is to be named to the GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America team, along with other top student-athletes across the nation. To qualify, athletes must be a leading contributor to the team and post a 3.2 cumulative grade-point average. Nebraska had three first-team selections in 1997-98, four second teamers and one third teamer. The Husker football team had two players named to the first team and three more selected to the second team. In the past 25 seasons, the Huskers have accumulated 46 first-team GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, including 10 two-time honorees. Overall, Nebraska has produced a nation-leading 52 first-team Academic All-Americans in football.

Did You Know...

- ◆ Nebraska leads the nation in all sports and in football first-team GTE Academic All-Americans with 90 and 52, respectively.
- ◆ Across all teams and all sports, NU leads the nation with 157 first-, second- and third-team GTE Academic All-Americans, 50 more than second-place Notre Dame.
- ◆ Nebraska has produced 52 first-team football GTE Academic All-Americans, 14 more than second-place Notre Dame. Only three schools have produced more than 30 first-team football academic All-Americans.
- ◆ Nine Husker football players, including 1997 winner Grant Wistrom, have received the NCAA's highest honor for student-athletes — selection as one of Today's Top Eight. That's the most for any individual sports program in the country and NU's 13 selections for all sports also leads the nation.

Sanderford Set to Start Second Season;

by Jeff Griesch

After closing Coach Paul Sanderford's first season at Nebraska in record-setting style, the Nebraska women's basketball team will attempt to take the Husker program even further in the 1998-99 season.

Nebraska finished 1997-98 by tying a school record for wins with a 23-10 record. The Huskers also posted a win in the NCAA Tournament, 76-59, over New Mexico in Norfolk, Va.

Although 1997-98 was one of the greatest seasons in Nebraska history, Sanderford (388-130 overall in 16 seasons) said the Huskers plan to use last year as a building block.

"Complacency is not a word that this team understands. We talk about using last year as a steppingstone to building a foundation and getting to the next level," Sanderford said. "For me, the next level is being a top 10 program, or being able to compete consistently with the best teams in the country. We were not there yet last year, but that is where we are going."

With 16 years of experience on the sidelines, 13 NCAA Tournament appearances, three NCAA Final Fours and a trip to the NCAA championship game on his resume, Sanderford knows what it takes to head a top 10 program.

He admits that the Huskers are not in the class with the top 10 yet, but he said the foundation has been laid.

"We realize that we are building, but at the same time, I'm not a patient person," Sanderford said. "Our goals are not going to change. We want to win 20 games, win the Big 12 and play in the NCAA Tournament. I don't know if those are realistic goals this year, but we are going to work as hard as we can all year long to achieve those goals."

If the Huskers are going to be successful this season, they will have to overcome the challenges of a treacherous schedule. The Huskers could play as many as 14 of their 29 regular-season games against teams that advanced to the 1998 NCAA Tournament.

"Considering the strength of our schedule, it is going to be a real accomplishment to win 20 games this season," Sanderford said. "At the same time, I think that if this team makes the commitment to work and improve, we could be a very good team by the end of the season."

The work ethic the Huskers demonstrated in his first season at Nebraska gave Sanderford reason to be optimistic about the future.

A group of overachieving Huskers left a lasting impression on the Nebraska record books. The Huskers equalled the school record for wins in a season, tying the 1992-93 (23-8), 1978-79 (23-13) and the 1979-80 (23-17) Nebraska squads. The Huskers also spent a school-record 17 weeks in the national rankings and set a school record for single-season home wins, going a perfect 16-0 at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.

"We have established the reputation at the University of Nebraska that we will not be out-worked or outhustled," Sanderford said. "We are going to be a physical, aggressive basketball team that is going to work harder than our opponents."

One of the key areas in which the Huskers plan to demonstrate their work ethic is on the boards. Last season, Nebraska led the Big 12 Conference and finished eighth nationally in rebounding margin. The Huskers outrebounded their opponents by an average of 8.6 rebounds per game. The Huskers averaged 43.4 rebounds per game, while holding their opponents to just 34.8 boards per contest.

Sanderford said establishing an identity as a great rebounding team is important for the young Huskers.

"We wanted to really concentrate on being a great rebounding team because it is one of those areas that shows that you are just playing harder than your opponent," Sanderford said. "Over the history of basketball, if you look at successful teams, you will find that rebound margin is one of the biggest statistical categories."

Along with rebounding, one of the keys for the Huskers in 1998-99 will be replacing honorable-mention All-American and first-team All-Big 12 Conference guard Anna DeForge.

DeForge led the Huskers with 18.5 points per game, while grabbing a team-best 7.9 rebounds per game.

"It is going to be hard to replace Anna DeForge," Sanderford said. "The thing you have to look at with Anna is not necessarily her 19 points or her eight rebounds a game, but her demeanor on the floor. She had the ability to pick the team up with big plays and her knowledge of the game."

Forward Cori McDill will lead a senior class that will be looked to for more production in 1998-99. Last season, McDill started 27 games, averaging 4.9 points and 3.3 rebounds per game.

McDill has been the hardest-working Husker during the offseason and will assume a leadership role during the season.

Sanderford said the leadership provided by McDill and the rest of the seniors will be key to the Huskers' success.

"I have never had a great team that didn't have great senior leadership," Sanderford said. "That doesn't necessarily mean that our seniors have to be our leading scorers, they just need to produce to their potential on the court and provide some intangibles, like motivation and leadership."

Sanderford said that Monet Williams could be the Huskers' most improved player this season. The 5-7 senior guard from Brooklyn, N.Y., played in 32 games last season and showed excellent defensive skills, while contributing 2.2 points and 1.3 rebounds in 9.1 minutes per game.

She has continued to improve her ball-handling and offensive skills, which could lead to substantially increased playing time for Williams in 1998-99.

Kate Benson will also be expected to provide more of an offensive threat off the bench as a senior. The 6-2 senior forward from Prairie Village, Kan., appeared in 25 games, contributing 1.4 points and 1.2 rebounds in 6.1 minutes of action per game.

Although she saw limited action on the court, Benson was a leader for the Huskers in the classroom, earning first-team academic All-Big 12 honors. She also earned her bachelor's degree in political science in just 2 1/2 years and is on track to complete her master's degree in business administration in May 1999.

"All three of our seniors have shown that they can lead this team in their own way," Sanderford said, "but we also need them to give us more production on the court. We really need them to step up their games."

Joining the Husker senior class this season will be two-time Nebraska volleyball All-American Lisa Reitsma. At 6-4, the Sanborn, Iowa, native could make an immediate impact in the paint for the Huskers. Reitsma averaged 18 points and six blocked shots as a senior at Western Christian High School in 1994. After high school, Reitsma helped the Huskers to the 1995 NCAA volleyball title. She ranks second on NU's career list with 1,633 kills and sixth with 337 block assists to go along with 35 solo blocks. She was a three-time first-team All-Big 12 pick and the 1996 Big 12 Player of the Year.

Nebraska's junior class will provide a solid nucleus in 1998-99. Nicole Kubik, Charlie Rogers, Brooke Schwartz and Naciska Gilmore combined to average 34.9 points and 15.2 rebounds for the Huskers last season.

Junior Nicole Kubik is the Huskers' top returnee, averaging 13.2 points per game last season.

Huskers Plan Return Trip to Big Dance

Sanderford said those numbers might just be scratching the surface of what the 1998-99 junior class can offer.

"I think that we have an outstanding junior class," Sanderford said. "I think that those four players are solid Division I players, and they have to be our nucleus. No one player is going to take over for Anna DeForge, so everybody has got to pick it up a little bit. Probably the biggest thing for this group is that they need to stay healthy."

Kubik, a 5-10 point guard from Cambridge, Neb., earned third-team All-Big 12 honors by averaging 13.2 points, 3.3 rebounds and a league-leading 3.2 steals last season. Kubik started all 33 games for the Huskers, quarterbacking a Nebraska offense that ranked 26th nationally with 77.5 points per game.

But Kubik was the only member of the group that was healthy throughout the 1997-98 season.

Rogers, a 6-2 center from South Sioux City, Neb., missed five games in February with a stress reaction in her left foot. She returned for the NCAA Tournament, but her effectiveness was diminished. Despite the injury, Rogers still managed 9.6 points and 4.8 rebounds, while starting 16 games.

"Charlie Rogers was making giant strides before her injury," Sanderford said. "She was starting to become a consistent player, and we definitely missed her at the end of the year."

Schwartz, a 5-9 guard from Gering, Neb., also battled injuries for much of the season. Schwartz had her appendix removed a week before the season began, which slowed her progress, and after playing her way into a starting job late in the year, she suffered an injury to her right calf against Colorado on Feb. 22, which limited her ability for the remaining five games.

Schwartz finished the season with nine starts in 32 appearances, while playing 16.5 minutes per contest. Despite her limited playing time, Schwartz produced 7.8 points and 3.9 rebounds per game.

Gilmore, a 6-0 forward from Tulsa, Okla., played with pain throughout the season, suffering from shin splints in both legs. She had a steel rod placed in her right leg in April, and has been doing well since surgery.

Last season, she appeared in all 33 games with one start, averaging 5.9 points and 4.0 rebounds in just 15.8 minutes per game.

Sanderford said the toll the injuries took on Gilmore was probably underestimated last year.

"Looking back, I think the stress fractures, the pain and the lack of practice took its toll on Cisco," Sanderford said. "She was huge for us early in the season in our wins in the Preseason WNIT, but I think the wear and tear really limited her. If she stays healthy, she could be a key for us this season."

Renee Saunders, a 5-11 junior guard from Omaha, will be looked to provide depth at the guard position after missing all of the 1997-98 season with a broken foot.

Along with five returning players, junior college transfer Monique Whitfield will bolster the Husker junior class.

The 6-1 forward from Long Beach, Calif., led Central Arizona Community College to the 1998 NJCAA national title, while capturing first-team NJCAA All-America honors. Whitfield averaged 16.8 points and 9.4 rebounds to help the Vaqueras to a 33-1 record.

Her presence on the court should not only go along way toward replacing DeForge's point production, it should also make the Huskers an even better rebounding team.

"Monique Whitfield is probably the best athlete we signed last season," Sanderford said. "She is very quick and has the outstanding jumping ability and long arms that make her a great rebounder. I look for her to come in and contribute right away."

Nebraska's sophomore class consists of just two players. Amanda Went, a 5-9 guard from Columbus, Neb., returns the most experience after playing 14 games as a true freshman last season.

Went averaged 0.9 points and 0.9 rebounds in 6.8 minutes per game before tearing the anterior cruciate ligament in her left knee. She underwent surgery Jan. 17 and appears to be fully recovered.

Jill Fosdick will add depth at guard with Went after returning from a redshirt season in 1997-98. Fosdick appeared in two games as a true freshman in 1996-97.

Nebraska's three scholarship freshmen recruits could be asked to play significant roles in their first seasons in Husker uniforms.

Candace Blackbird earned Nebraska's Miss Basketball award after leading South Sioux City High School to its fourth consecutive state title. Blackbird, a 6-0 guard/forward averaged 17.3 points, 5.4 assists and 3.8 rebounds during her senior season.

Jennifer Jaracz could provide the Huskers with an immediate threat from outside in her first season. The 6-0 guard from Crestwood, Ky., is a true shooter who averaged 14.7 points and 7.4 rebounds while leading South Oldham High School to an Elite Eight finish in Kentucky during her senior season.

Sanderford said Jaracz and Blackbird will give the Huskers size, depth and athleticism at the guard position.

"Jennifer Jaracz and Candace Blackbird are both big, athletic guards," Sanderford said. "I like big guards. Candace could really help us defensively in the press, and Jennifer is a real shooter who might be able to help us offensively."

The third member of the Huskers' freshman class was the first to commit to Nebraska. Karsen Muller, a 5-6 point guard from Arapahoe High School in Littleton, Colo., signed her letter of intent in November. During her career as a four-year starter, Muller led Arapahoe to an 81-10 record. A tremendous one-on-one defender, Muller recorded 71 steals as a senior, while averaging 11.2 points and 5.3 assists to earn first-team All-Class 5A honors.

Muller will be limited in her first season after undergoing arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage from her foot on Oct. 8. Muller suffered a deep bone bruise in April, which hampered her training and conditioning. Because of the surgery, Muller will probably not be 100 percent until December.

If Nebraska is going to make a return trip to the NCAA Tournament in 1999, the Huskers are going to have to prove themselves by beating some of the nation's top teams. The Huskers' 13-game non-conference schedule includes nine teams that earned trips to the 1998 NCAA Tournament and five teams that finished the season in the Associated Press Top 25.

Heading the list of ranked Husker opponents is Arizona, which the Huskers could see in the championship game of the CableVision Classic. The Wildcats advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and finished the season ranked No. 9.

The Huskers could also play as many as three ranked teams in the Rainbow Wahine Classic in Honolulu, Nov. 27-29. Five teams in the eight-team Rainbow Wahine Classic earned bids to the 1998 NCAA Tournament.

After completing an extremely challenging non-conference schedule, the Big 12 season will not get any easier for the Huskers. Kansas returns all five starters from a team that advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 last season. Texas Tech and Iowa State also earned trips to the NCAA Tournament in 1998, with both teams advancing to the second round. The Red Raiders, who won the conference title last season, and the Cyclones should challenge for the league crown again this season. Texas and Colorado, which both struggled through difficult 1997-98 seasons, should be improved and ready to return to the upper echelon of Big 12 teams.

Overall, Sanderford said the Big 12 might be the best league in the nation in 1998-99.

"From top to bottom, I think the Big 12 will be better than any other conference in the country this year," Sanderford said. "Legitimately, if we don't beat each other up too badly during the conference season, we could get six teams in the NCAA Tournament. Just based on the players these teams have coming back, we will deserve to get six teams in the tournament in March."

Hire A Husker Student-Athlete

The student-athletes at the University of Nebraska know what being part of success is all about. They understand the commitment that they make each year to their coaches and teammates will serve them well in their "quest to be the best" on the field of competition. Huskers also realize that everything they do as a student-athlete in preparation of winning championships will transfer with them through life into a successful employment opportunity and professional career.

When you hire a Husker, you are employing young adults who have qualities and strengths that will complement your business and associate needs. Husker student-athletes are self-motivated, disciplined and responsible. As they work to master their sport skills for competition, they too are gaining valuable experience in time management and organizational skills. A student-athlete from the University of Nebraska understands the demands of a full day which typically includes attending classes, practice, strength and conditioning workouts, team meetings and studying. Huskers are prepared to accept the challenges of your employment opportunity. They are willing to learn and capable of doing the job you request.

Why is the Student-Athlete Employment Program Important?

Due to NCAA limitations on the number of athletic scholarships that our football program is allowed to award each year, not every student-athlete who is a member of the football team is receiving a full-ride scholarship. Many of our athletes are walk-on team members who must endure the expenses of attending the university on their own. Often times, these athletes must work during the summer vacation period as well as during the academic year to off-set registration fees and cost of living expenses. These non-scholarship athletes play an integral part in the success of our football program and without employment, would not be able to attend the university or participate on the football team. An employment opportunity for these young men simply make their dreams come true of becoming a Husker.

A football student-athlete who is receiving an athletic scholarship has all of his academic related expenses provided. These expenses include tuition, room and board, books and fees. However, all other personal expenses i.e. returning home travel, clothing needs, medical or dental services, telephone access, etc., are the responsibility of the student-athlete. The student-athletes who receive athletic scholarships also benefit greatly from summer and academic year employment. Employers who provide job opportunities for any of our football athletes play a very important role in the support system for our student-athletes.

NCAA guidelines regarding student-athlete employment

Beginning with the 1998-99 school year, a student-athlete at the University of Nebraska who is receiving a full or partial athletic scholarship is permitted to earn legitimate on or off-campus employment during the semester as long as the amount earned in combination with other financial aid included in the student-athlete's individual limit, does not exceed the value of a full grant in aid plus $2000.

In order for a student-athlete to be eligible for an employment opportunity, certain NCAA Guidelines must be adhered to:

- * The student-athlete has attended the University of Nebraska for one academic year.
- * The student-athlete is eligible academically to compete for the University of Nebraska.
- * The student-athlete is not receiving remuneration because of the publicity, reputation, fame or personal following he has obtained because of athletics ability.
- * The student-athlete is to be compensated for work actually performed.
- * The rate of pay is to be the going rate of pay for the duties performed in the locality.

Assistant Coach

Assistant Coach

- * The hours paid must be for the worked hours.
- * Transportation, uniforms, meals, or any other work related benefits may be provided only if such benefits are available for all employees.
- * The student-athlete will not earn in excess of his limit during the academic year as determined by the UNL Financial Aid Office.

What about summer vacation employment opportunities?

Any student-athlete, regardless of class status or eligibility status may be employed and earn unlimited compensation seven days prior to or during any official university holiday and vacation period; Christmas, Thanksgiving, Spring Break, Summer Vacation, etc. Furthermore, you may also employ a prospective student-athlete who has completed his senior year of high school and who has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.

Who benefits from employing a Husker Student-Athlete?

All parties involved with the employment of a Husker football player are in a win-win situation. As an employer, you benefit from the services and contributions of a young adult who has the discipline, desire and commitment to being a dependable employer for your business. As an employee, your employment opportunity for these young men enable them to gain valuable on-the-job experience as they prepare for their future and make the transition from being a college student-athlete to successful contributors in society. As a nation-leading football program, your commitment to employ a Husker enables our coaches to provide a "total package" and the best of overall opportunities for a prospective student-athlete to succeed during the recruiting process. And finally, the University of Nebraska can continue to be proud and pleased of the representation and recognition, career placement rate, and of course, our National Football Championship titles. You make a big difference and everyone benefits when you employ a Husker!

Who do you contact to become involved with the Student-Athlete Employment Program?

If you are interested in employing a Husker football player during the summer vacation period, you should contact the Nebraska Football Office at (402) 472-3116. Coach Turner Gill and Coach Dan Young along with football secretary Joni Duff will coordinate the placement of football athletes for your employment needs.

During the academic year, contact should be made with Theresa Becker, Compliance Assistant for the Athletic Department, located at 300 West Stadium. Proper forms and documentation regarding the employment of a student-athlete must be completed prior to the beginning of employment as well as at the conclusion of the employment appointment. Feel free to call (402) 472-7009 with questions or concerns.

sauced, sautéed, flambéed and frozen before it reaches your home, science plays a gastronomically important role in your life.

NU researchers are cooking up ways to make fresher-tasting frozen food, edible food wrappings, natural preservatives, leaner, healthier bacon and tastier tortilla chips, while creating new uses for Nebraska's agricultural products.

Remember the warmed-over flavor that is the essence of the chicken cordon bleu frozen dinner? The taste that, even if you place the meal on your finest china, announces at once "yes, this is a twice-cooked, once-frozen food"? It's one target of NU food research.

"Warmed-over flavor is caused by a chemical reaction, the oxidation of lipid (fat) compounds, so it can be measured chemically," said Marilyn Schnepf, chair of NU's Department of Nutritional Science and Dietetics. What can be measured chemically also can be prevented chemically.

Schnepf and graduate student Yi Wu theorized that protecting frozen food from oxygen would prevent the oxidation reaction, and warmed-over flavor would be history. This seemed an ideal use for the edible films being developed and tested by NU Institute of Agriculture and

In a world where food is tenderized, breaded, herbed, sauced, sautéed, flambéed and frozen before it reaches your home, science plays a gastronomically important role in your life.

NU RESEARCHER Marilyn Schnepf stretches a sheet of edible film.

Natural Resources researchers in Biological Systems Engineering and Food Science and Technology.

Edible films use starches and proteins from Nebraska's top crops — corn, wheat, soybeans and sorghum — and other ag products to make plastic-like sheets, said Curt Weller, food engineer in NU's Industrial Agricultural Products Center who has worked on the films for 10 years. These environmentally friendly films may replace polyethylene and other non-degradable films for selected uses. Now they're mostly turning up in niche markets, he said.

"We're still testing physical properties of different films, things like how easily they tear and whether they are barriers to water

NU RESEARCHER

Roger Mandigo handles a side of genetically engineered lean pork.

"We want to turn the cell system into a bio-reactor that will produce this stuff for us," Cuppett said.

Rosemary can be used as an additive to extend shelf-life and prevent food from becoming rancid. It may be in the form of a crude extract or be refined into a clean, white, odorless powder.

"You can get variations on a theme,"

Cuppett said. "If you want rosemary scent and flavor, say, in a chicken marinade, you can have it along with the antioxidant properties."

As consumers become more health-conscious, old favorite foods like bacon have had to change with the times. People love bacon and other pork products, but want to cut dietary fat.

The pork industry is responding by producing leaner hogs. NU animal scientists are evaluating different ways to process and cook more than 25,000 pounds of bacon from six new genetic lines of lean hogs.

"Bacon, historically, was 60 to 70 percent fat. Today it is below 50 percent, and these new genetic lines of hogs are maybe 35 percent fat," said meat scientist Roger Mandigo.

Bacon has changed and so has its use.

"Bacon has moved from a center-of-the-plate meat item to a condiment," he said. Bacon's fastest-growing use is as a pre-cooked product added to restaurant sandwiches, which requires different characteristics than home use.

"Our assignment is to make foods as friendly to the consumers as possible by satisfying both their health and taste concerns," Mandigo said.

Taste is the final and most important measure of a food product's success, and the best taste relies on the best ingredients and processing. Nebraska corn hybrids long have been known for high quality as livestock feed and industrial products. But can they make a good tortilla chip?

Corn tortillas, chips and taco shells are made with an ancient process called alkaline cooking, food scientist David Jackson said. Jackson tests how different corn hybrids perform in that process and explores ways to make the process more efficient.

"We're looking at ways to improve the quality of chips from Nebraska corn hybrids," he said. "We want corn types that are ideal for these uses, not just good."

IANR food scientists are doing research that turns up on the dinner table, said Steve Taylor, head of NU's Department of Food Science and Technology.

"Because many food science faculty address problems that are relevant to the food industry, their efforts often have direct effects on consumers," he said.

and oxygen movement," Weller said. "Widespread use of edible films depends on successful research showing their functionality — this is where Yi's work is important." Wu brings her edible films to Weller's lab to test these functional properties.

Wu combats warmed-over flavor three ways: wrapping cooked pork chops or hamburgers in edible films; mixing antioxidants into ground beef, and permeating the films with antioxidants. Chemical and taste tests show all three can reduce the unwanted flavor. Wu is determining which films work best with different products.

The naturally occurring antioxidants food scientist Susan Cuppett is working on are good candidates for use on Wu's edible films.

"There are tons of products that have been advertised as antioxidants. My goal is to come up with sets of compounds that are natural and that the consumer perceives as such," Cuppett said.

Cuppett focuses on plant sources of antioxidants, especially rosemary and sage, which produce small amounts of these compounds. She grows rosemary in tissue cultures, studying where and when the cultures produce antioxidants so she can find a way to maximize yields.
